Racing Notes And Turf Gossip

(By "MORNING DEW")

Entries close to-day at noon for the Sixth Extra Race Meeting to be held on June 2. This is the last meeting before the interval of three months during the hot weather and although the programme caters for the less successful ponies, there is sure to be a good days' sport. Incidentally the half yearly meeting of the Jockey Club is to take place on May 31.

* * *

The Whitsun meeting was full of interest and the results should prove to be a valuable guide to those who are studying form with a view to make use of their knowledge during the second half of the season. For one thing, the course was dry for the first time, and, needless to say, the Australian ponies of the 1934 season had no difficulty in smashing records set up by the champions of the past. There is no doubt whatever now that Able Amazon is an outstanding pony and though it is too early to make predictions for the autumn, Abe Amazon should win the Leger and the Champions.

* * *

The success of High Finance, and the good running of both St. Joan and 'Vriday were other features of the Australian races. So far as High Finance is concerned, I am sure that no one would challenge the view that it was due to the excellent riding of Mr. P. P. Botelho that the pony won. "Paul" took no chances with his mount and although he was a good distance behind both 'Vriday and St. Joan at the top of the hill, he kept at his task, and when High Finance swerved slightly upon entering the straight, he kept the pony on the outside in order not to break the pony's stride, and well he did, for he scored a meritorious win.

* * *

I was present at the auction when Mr. Reidy acquired 'Vriday for a mere song. The pony under Mr. Reidy's careful training has come along splendidly and it will not surprise me in the least to find him one of the best in the second half of this season. He ran two very good races at the last extra meeting, and at some future date when you are looking for a good outsider, you can do worse than backing 'Vriday. St. Joan's improved form was no surprise, as the pony did some good track work during the past fortnight. Another pony which ran very well but had not the fortune of being placed was Australian Boy. Look out for him!

* * *

The success of Mr. Norman Deitz on Saturday, when he obtained four wins made him more than ever a popular favourite with the Chinese punter. On Monday, however, Mr. Deitz although placed several times, failed to ride a winner. Following Mr. Botelho's success of High Finance, he was well backed on everything he took out on Monday. Mr. Botelho scored a total of four firsts and four seconds during the meeting and was thus the most successful jockey.

* * *

The victory of Sadko proved an exceptionally popular one and the public gave Mr. Harriman a great ovation as he was led in. A few weeks ago it was felt that Sadko had seen his best days, but obviously that view was wrong for Sadko after running a good second to Soldier of Britain on Saturday in six furlongs, went on to account for Mr. Li Shin Pang's candidate over a mile and a quarter, returning the excellent time of 2.29.2, which appears to be the fastest he has ever returned for the mile and a quarter. Sadko had the unique distinction of accounting for Diana Bay when the latter was at the height of her successes.

* * *

In making the selections for Monday I "tipped" Oak Bay to beat King's Fancy in the Bohea Handicap. Oak Bay, however was held over for the "B" Class race (Yangtsze Handicap) and won that by a narrow margin from Bright Star. It would be interesting to see Oak Bay matched with King's Fancy, as I am sure a rattling good race will be seen. Incidentally now that King's Fancy has won twice, he will be promoted to the "B" Class?

* * *

Mr. A. J. P. Heard scored a very popular win on Spinaway on Saturday in a very close finish. He had several mounts to chose from, viz. Daylight Eve and Lemberg and the fact that he selected Spinaway in preference to these candidates made me nominate the pony as a likely winner. Mr. Heard has not had the best of luck this season and it is to be hoped that during the second half of the racing season he will meet with more success. I recall how he made himself a firm favourite with the public last autumn by winning the big subs' race with Golden Dragon from Warrington and National Day. After that, whatever he rode was made a favourite irrespective of whether the pony had a chance or not.

* * *

The novices race were quite an interesting feature of the meeting. Mr. Tang Man Wah is undoubtedly asserting himself these days and it will not surprise me to see him out of the novice class by the end of this year. Messrs. Taylor and Jordan too, are doing very well and this is all to the good as we need more and more good jockeys if the race meetings are going to be interesting. It is regrettable that Mr. Mossop should meet with such heavy injuries on Saturday when he sustained a fall from Rose Leaf, but at the same time it is gratifying to hear that he is making rapid progress. The racing community, I am certain, will join me in wishing him a speedy recovery.

Full marks must be given to Mr. "Benny" Proulx for his meritorious win on No Fear. I confess that when I saw the pony win at Macao a little over a month ago, I had no idea that he was good enough to account for ponies like National Day, Helter Skelter, King's Parade and Powerful King. He must have improved tremendously and when Mr. Proulx sent him into the vanguard after the first half mile, No Fear had the race well in hand. Incidentally Powerful King started twice on Monday. Had the pony been reserved for the Pei Ho Handicap, I think he would at least have secured a place. In my opinion, the earlier run did not help him at all.

* * *

Mr. Alec Potts surprised racegoers with the confident way in which he handled the starter's job. I want to take this opportunity of complimenting him on the manner in which he carried out his work. All the twenty starts in the two days were good, and no fair-minded person can find fault with them. In the polo scurry, however, where there was no gate, the ponies on the rails appeared from the grandstand, to succeed in getting away a little sooner than those away from the rails. I am sure though that the start made no difference to the result as Stickypast was too good for the others.

* * *

Talking about the Polo Scurry, it must be something of a record for the candidates of one owner to carry off all three places in a field of eleven starters. Mr. Jordan in addition to collecting all three prizes went on to win the novices race which brought Monday's programme to a close! Congratulations.

* * *

Coming now to the next Extra Meeting. The interesting point about June 2nd, is not so much that it is the last meeting of the first half of the season, but that it is going to be the meeting when the $1 ticket on the Juling Stakes will be decided. At the end of Monday over $52,500 tickets were sold and I am sure that between now and the race, another 10,000 will be taken up, so that at least two thirds will have been sold. Tickets can still be purchased at Messrs. Linstead and Davis and if you have not got your finger in the pie, go along and get some tickets.

* * *

The last meeting of the season will be more or less for the "also rans" but I am quite certain that the sport will be none the less interesting. There seems to me to be a distinct likelihood of a day

Green Salad Is So Good

There are few more pleasing dishes than a well-made, plain green salad, but few things are more difficult to get, unless you make it yourself. Yet scarcely anything could be easier.

In the first place, no knife should ever approach within cutting distance of the crisp young lettuce you will use. Take off the outside leaves, but do not throw them away, as you should be able to use them for a soup or a puree.

Put the whole of the inside into cold water, and leave it there for ten minutes, no longer. Shake as much water as you can out of the lettuce, holding it by the stump of the stalk. Tear the leaves off carefully and put them into a clean, dry teacloth, and swing round so that as much moisture as possible comes out of the leaves.

If you do not want to use it just at the moment, hang it up in a cool place to dry. Nothing is more horrid than a wet, flabby lettuce-leaf. Put the dried lettuce on a wire tray or colander. The best salad is made with the smaller leaves left intact.

You are now ready to eat your salad, and the leaves should be brought into the dining-room in a generous salad-bowl, so that it can be well mixed. Make your dressing at the table, or have it made at the sideboard a minute before you want it.

If you are seasoning your lettuce with fines herbs (chopped parsley, chervil, chives and taragon) which I strongly advise you to do, sprinkle the leaves lightly with them now. Then pour over your dressing, which in this case should be plain Vinaigrette (one part wine vinegar, two parts olive oil, saet and pepper), and turn the leaves over carefully in it with two wooden spoons or a bone salad spoon and fork, so that each leaf receives its proper share and glistens with the dressing as it is removed to your plate.

It is a perfect dish by itself, but grace any meat with which it may be served.

Have A Curried Dish For Lunch On One Of These Depressingly Hot Days

Curries were originated in India and are intended to stimulate lagging appetites during depressing weather. The highly seasoned, pungent curry sauce with its distinctive flavour does indeed tempt the appetite and will be found a worth-while addition to Menus.

A curry is invariably served with rice and may or may not use meat or fish in its make-up. Vegetable curries are excellent and help solve the luncheon or supper problem. The rice forms the border and the other material in the curry gives the piquant flavour to the dish. Left-over meats can be reheated in the curry sauce and served in a border of rice. This suggests an attractive way to use up left-overs.

The following basic rule of curry sauce has been modified to please Western palates. Even so, some tastes will prefer less curry.

Curry Sauce

One scant tablespoon curry powder, 1 tablespoon flour, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 cups tomato juice, 1 small onion, 1 tablespoon chutney sauce, 1½ tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon pepper.

Melt butter and stir in curry powder and flour. Cook and stir until bubbly and slowly add tomato juice, stirring constantly. When smooth, add minced onion, chutney, lemon juice, sugar, salt and pepper. Simmer for 30 minutes. If chutney sauce is not available chopped cucumber rings or mixed sweet pickle can be used.

Tender, left-over veal, lamb, mutton, chicken, beef or fish can be reheated in this sauce and served in a border of well cooked rice. Cheap cuts of meat can be cut in small pieces, seared quickly in hot fat and simmered until tender in the sauce in the oven or on top of the stove. Water can, of course, be used in place of tomato juice.

East Indian Curry

One pound round steak or lean beef of any cut, 1 tablespoon curry powder, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 onion, ½ fresh coconut, 1 banana, ½ lemon, ½ teaspoon salt.

Cut meat in small squares. Melt Butter in stew pan and, when it bubbles, add onion minced and curry powder. Stir with a fork and cook five minutes. Add meat and brown quickly. Add boiling water to cover and simmer one hour adding water if necessary. Add salt, lemon juice, banana cut in inch slices and coconut infusion. Simmer until tender and serve with rice.

To make coconut infusion grate or scrape coconut and let stand in one cup boiling water for 20 minutes. Strain through cheesecloth, squeezing coconut as dry as possible.

Always Available Banana is High In Food Value; Served As Vegetable

The home maker who wants to supply a well balanced and nourishing diet for her family at minimum cost will choose bananas as one of her staple fruits.

They are always cheap and plentiful in the markets.

Not so many years ago bananas were considered indigestible by many persons. Now this food superstition, like many others, has been overcome by science. We know now that a ripe, raw banana can be fed to every small children without causing digestive difficulty.

Bananas are high in food value, a good sized one furnishing 100 calories. Their large starch content makes them an excellent substitute for potatoes as an accompaniment with meat. It is this starch content which makes an unripe banana difficult to digest. Cooking the banana converts the starch into dextrine and sugar, making it quite as digestible as a perfectly ripe, raw banana.

Baking bananas in the skin improves them for many persons. Bake bananas in a quick oven and only until soft and the juice begins to flow. Longer baking makes them tough and dark, and dry and tasteless.

Bananas baked before the skins darken will not be as fine flavored as the perfectly ripened ones, but they will be more digestible than if eaten raw. Unripe bananas should be baked without the skins and basted with a thin syrup, those can be used as desert while those baked in the skins may take the place of a vegetable.

There are many ways to serve bananas. They are excellent in salads and fruit cups. Their bland flavour combines well with such tart fruits as grapefruit and pineapples. Sliced oranges and sliced bananas are arranged in layers with a generous sprinkling of shredded coconut provides a simple dessert worthy of frequent serving.

Fried Bananas (As a Vegetable)

Peel and scrape bananas. Cut in halves crosswise and sprinkle with salt and lemon juice. Roll in fine dried bread crumbs, dip in egg slightly beaten with 1 ablespoon water and roll again in crumbs. Fry about two minutes in deep hit fat and serve as vegetable with a tart sauce. A good sauce is made by adding seven drops of tabasco and 2 teaspoons lemon juice to one-half cup simple syrup.

Salad Dressings

Salad-time is upon us, and we should polish up our dressings. These are five of the most popular:

Mayonnaise

We all know how to make this, but it might be worth while to note that for dressing salads, the mayonnaise ought to be thinner than usual.

Vinaigrette

This is what is known sometimes as "French dressing," and consists of one part of wine vinegar to two of olive oil, seasoned with salt and pepper to taste. The salt is usually dissolved in the vinegar, and the pepper and oil mixed in afterwards.

Vinaigrette with Mustard

Some salads require a slightly stronger dressing than others. For this one, a little made mustard is added to the vinegar after the salt, the oil and Pepper following in the usual way and in the same proportion.

Cream Dressing

In this dressing you use cream instead of oil and lemon juice instead of vinegar. It is made and seasoned in the same way as vinaigrette, and in the same proportions. It can also be "mustarded" if desired.

Hard-boiled Egg Dressing

This is a kind of mayonnaise made with hard-boiled egg-yoke. Pound two or three in a bowl with a wooden spoon, and season them with salt, pepper, and a little mustard. Then stir in, as you would for a mayonnaise, enough olive oil to make a thick, creamy sauce. Vinegar should be added at the last moment.

Remember always to use wine vinegar and the best olive oil you can get. Those who do not like vinegar may use lemon juice to add to the mayonnaise or hard-boiled egg dressing at the last moment.

A KNIFE-RACK

In many housholds stainless knives have now superseded ordinary steel ones and it is convenient to have a special case for them. A compact little tray is one of polished wood, with raised ends and a central rack made to hold one dozen large and one dozen small knives, a carver, and a bread-knife. This tray is 14½ inches long, 8 inches wide, and 2 inches high, and is designed to fit an ordinary side-board drawer. It may be carried about with the knives in it. It keeps them in perfect order and is more durable and much easier to clean than a baize-lined knife basket.

A SANDWICH FILLING

If at any time there is some cold salmon left over after dinner it need not be thrown away or eaten up cold, as with it an excellent sandwich filling may be made which will come in usefully during the picnic season. Remove the salmon from the bones and mash it well with several prawns. Mix to a stiff paste with a little butter which has previously been melted by placing it in a warm oven for a few minutes. Add seasoning as desired and enough butter to render the paste easy to spread. Finally press tightly into a glass jar and cover with melted butter. A sandwich filled with this paste and a little chopped or sliced cucumber is delicious.

EGGS BAKED IN CHEESE SAUCE

Halve 6 hard-cooked eggs, lengthwise. Saute ½ cup minced mushrooms in 2 tablespoons fat. Combine with egg yolks and a dash of curry. Restuff the whites with this mixture. Allow three ovals to an individual ramekin and cover the eggs with a rich cheese sauce. Bake for 15 minutes or until browned.

Recipe Given for Cake That Is Different

Royal Sunflower Cake

- 4 eggs
- 3 tablespoons cold water
- A pinch of salt
- 1¼ cups cake flour
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 teaspoon Royal baking powder
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 cup brown sugar
- Peach halves

Separate the yolk and the white of the eggs. Beat the whites and when stiff, add yolks one by one and the sugar gradually. Sift the dry ingredients several times, then add to the egg mixture alternately with the cold water. Add flavouring and pour this batter on top of the following:

In an iron skillet, melt 2 tablespoons of butter and add one cup of brown sugar, then blend carefully. Place on this, peach halves which have been cut so that they form petals of a flower.

Bake in 375° F. for about 30 minutes. Invert on a large round plate. Serve with whipping cream.

Libby's Sausage Rolls

- 3 cups flour
- 4 teaspoon Royal Baking powder.
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons Swift's Formay
- 1 egg
- ¾ cup Libby's milk
- 1 tin Libby's Vienna Sausage

Mix and sift the dry ingredient cut in shortening with finger tips. Add the milk to which the beated egg has been mixed. Roll out the dough into a flat sheet, cut in squares, and on each square place a sausage. Roll up and brush with beaten egg. Place on a greased pan and bake in a moderate oven for about 25 minutes.

Dairy Products for Health

By the Nurse

Pure milk is a vital food, which is better than almost all others in the nourishment it provides for the body.

Eggs also constitute one of the most valuable of dairy products, partly because of their nutritive value, and also because of the many ways in which they may be served. As sources of energy in the diet, eggs supply a larger number of calories per pound than milk, though less than beef steak.

In most homes, cheese ranks more as an "extra" than a food, usually being eaten with biscuits at the close of a heartly meal as an aid to digestion. Actually, it is important enough to serve as a substitute for fish or meat in the main meal of the day, combined with such food as spaghetti, rice or macaroni.

Then there is butter, one of the most palatable and digestible of all foods, its great value being due, chiefly, to its Vitamin "A" content.

It is a short step from butter to the various margarines now in general use.

Few people realise that margarine comes under two headings.

1. Nut or Vegetable Margarine, in which the fat churned with the milk is obtained from nuts or vegetable oil.

2. Margarine, in which the fat churned with the milk is an animal fat.

The prejudice against margarines which formerly existed has been largely overcome, because much work has been done in research laboratories and these studies have proved that margarine is wholesome, easily digested, and a valuable addition to the available fats.

WALUNT STRIPS

There are three steps in making these delicious strips. For the crust, cream ¼ cup shortening, ½ cup flour, aad when smooth spread in a greased pan measuring about 9 by 5 inches. Bake 12 to 15 minutes in a hot oven.

While the crust is baking make the filling. Beat 1 egg, and ¾ cup brown sugar sifted to prevent lumps. 1 tablespoon flour, ½ teaspoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ cup shredded coconut, ½ cup walnuts, chopped, and ½ teaspoon vanilla. When the crust comes from the oven spread the filling evenly on top and return to oven, baking 15 to 20 minutes longer.

After the filling is cool make a confectioner's frosting as follows: Work 1 tablespoon butter until creamy and add ¾ cup confectioner's sugar, 1 tablespoon warm orange juice, drop by drop, and ½ teaspoon lemon juice. Spread on the cake and sprinkle with ½ cup walnuts, chopped. Cut in strips 1 inch wide and 2 to 3 inches long.

OLD-FASHIONED SUGAR COOKIES

- 2¾ cups flour
- 2½ tsp. baking powder
- ½ cup shortening
- ½ tsp. salt
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- 1 tsp. vanilla

Sift the flour before measuring. Add the baking powder and salt and sift again. Cream the shortening thoroughly, add the sugar slowly and cream with the shortening. Add the eggs and Beat well. Add the vanilla. All the flour and blend. Chill in the refrigerator for 15 minutes. Roll ¼ inch thick on a lightly floured board. Cut with a large floured cutter. Sprinkle with sugar. Place on an ungreased baking sheet and bake in a hot oven for 12 minutes. To vary make a sandwich of two cookies and use a filling of jelly or marmalade. Cut three small holes in the top cookie before baking.

Cool Beverage

There is something so inviting about a tall, cock tail glass filled to the brim with a refreshing beverage filling a crush with ice that few can resist its invitation these sultry summer days. Perhaps are tired of simple lemon, or orange ades. In that case—here are a few suggestions for drinks that are a bit out-of-usual and very satisfying.

FROSTED ORANGE JUICE

Add a dip of ice cream to a glass of chilled orange juice—stir until the ice cream is partially dissolved and serve at once.

ORANGE GINGER ALE

Fil tall glasses about ½ full of cracked ice, and ⅓ cup of orange juice and ⅓ cup ginger ale. Serve immediately.

PINEAPPLE LEMONADE

Use one-third fresh or canned pine apple juice to one-third lemon juice, to one-third ginger ale. Pour over cracked ice and serve.

FRUIT PUNCH

1 cup orange juice
1 cup raspberry juice
½ cup lemon juice
5 tbsp. sugar

Blend above ingredients thoroughly and garnish each glass with lemon curl.

SPICED ICED TEA

6 cups cold tea
Juice of 6 lemons
1 cup sugar
⅛ tsp. ground ginger and ground cloves

Mix well, add cracked ice and garnish each glass with a maraschino cherry spiked with cloves.

ORANGE CREAM

1 egg yolk
⅔ cup orange juice
⅓ cup thin cream

Beat egg yolk until light, add orange juice and blend. Pour into glass and add cream. Sweeten to taste. Serve at once. (Serves one.)

GRAPEFRUIT PUNCH

3 cups grapefruit juice
1 cup lemon or lime juice
4 cups water
¾ cup sugar

Pour in tall glasses over crushed ice and serve.

PRUNE-LEMON JUICE

One-third prune juice to one-third lemon to one-third water. Mix well chill and serve as a breakfast cocktail.

A LA CHEVREUSE

One would expect that the Duc de Chevreuse, son-in-law of the great Colbert, whose sole we know so well, would be a gourment, and, from the garnish to which he has given his name, we find he was. This consists of artichoke bottoms filled with mushroom, puree and decorated with a slice of truffle, the accompaniment being noisette potatoes.

He has a clear soup—a chicken consomme garnished with large chicken kuenelles, stuffed with a puree of asparagus and julienne strips of truffle. The thick soup is a creme made with chicken veloute, bound with egg or cream, and garnished with semolina and a julienne of truffles and chicken meat.

In the fish course, the Duc has only given his name to a dish of lobster, a most elegant cold dish of slices of lobster, glazed with jelly and arranged in the empty lobster shell alternately with fine slices of truffle. Asparagus tips lend their charm to the dish, which is decorated with shapes of the dish, which is decorated with shapes of the jelly. A mayonnaise sauce is handed with it.

Among the entrees, only tournedos and noisettes are prepared a la Cheveruse. First sautes, then moistened with half-glaze sauce and Madeira, they are covered with their own sauce, and accompanied by the garnish mentioned above.

Semolina appears again in his choice of sweets. a Pouding Cheveruse being an ordinary semolina pudding enriched by the addition of pieces of crystallised fruits which have been soaked in Kirsch.

Pommes a la Chevereuse is a hot sweet made by arranging poached quarters of apples round the edge of a circle of the preparation usually made for semolina croquettes. The centre of this then garnished with a mixture of crystallised fruits and grapes. bound together with a thick puree of apricots. A cover of the semolina mixture is put on, and this in turn is masked with meringue. This is sprinkled with chopped nuts, and the whole thing is cooked in the oven to gild the meringue.

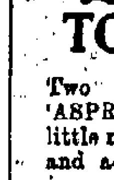
Possibly the greatest users of 'ASPRO' are women, for whom 'ASPRO' has a special charm on account of the varied periodical experiences with which all women are familiar. They surely know just what a wonderful soother and pain dispeller 'ASPRO' is. Millions of women throughout the World now regularly take 'ASPRO,' the safe, sure and effective medicine, to relieve their pain and accompanying physical depression, who before had to resort to dangerous drugs, narcotics or opiates. The understanding woman uses 'ASPRO.'

HOW TO GIVE 'ASPRO' TO CHILDREN



Two simple methods of giving 'ASPRO' to the kiddies are: (a) with a little milk; or (b) break the tablet up and administer in a teaspoonful of jam. The dosage is: Children 3 to 6 years, ¼ tablet; 6 to 14 years, 1 tablet; 14 to 16 years, 1½ tablets. 'ASPRO' like any other medicine should not be given to babies under 3 years of age without medical advice.

Fill The Cooky Jar

With These Delicious and Tempting Delicacies

Most good cooks appreciate the advantage of keeping a supply of cookies on hand. They fill that "between-meal void" and provide a basis for quick and satisfying desserts. Here are some new ways to cancoct these delicious tidbits—try them as a change from your standard as a change from your standard recipes.

Take 1 cupful each of butter, brown and granulated sugar, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoonful each of salt and soda, ½ cup nut meats, 1 teaspoonful each of almond and vanilla extract and 4½ cups of flour. Cream the butter, add the sugar, eggs and other ingredients. Roll into two rolls and let stand on a cloth in a pan placed in the ice box. The cloth keeps the dough from flattening and sticking to the pan thus losing its round shape. Slice very thin, decorate with half a nut meat, a raisin or cherry as one's taste suggests.

SPICE COOKIES

5 whole eggs
1 lb. brown sugar
2 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. ground cloves
1 tsp. vanilla
1 tsp. ginger
1 tsp. baking soda
3 cups flour

Mix the above together, add enough flour to handle it, roll into small balls or drop from a teaspoon and bake in greased pans in a hot oven, 10 to 15 minutes.

OATMEAL COOKIES

1 cup sugar
2 cups oatmeal
1 tsp. soda
2 cups flour
1 cup fat
½ tsp. salt
2 eggs
½ cup milk

Spread over a flat pan. When done cut into squares.

MOLASSES COOKIES

1 cup sweetened condensed milk
½ cup molasses
½ cup seeded raisins
23 graham crackers
½ tsp. ginger
½ tsp. allspice
½ tsp. cinnamon
½ tsp. salt

Combine the condensed milk and molasses. Add the graham cracker crumbs, chopped raisins and walnuts and spices antd salt. Mix thoroughly. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased baking sheet. Bake in a moderate oven for 15 minutes.

CHOCOLATE COOKIES

¾ cup dark brown sugar
½ cup sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
4 tbsp. cocoa
½ tsp. salt
½ cup sour milk
1 egg
2½ cups flour
1 tsp. soda
4 tbsp. fat, melted

Mix sugars, vanilla, cocoa and salt with the milk and egg. Beat two minutes. Add rest of ingredients, mixing lightly. Drop portions from end of spoon into greased baking sheets. Bake 12 minutes in moderate oven.

COCONUT DROPS

⅝ cup butter
1½ cups sugar
4 tbsp. cream
2 eggs
½ tsp. lemon extract
1 tsp. vanilla
½ tsp. salt
½ cup coconut
3 cups flour
2 tsp. cream of tartar.

Cream butter and sugar. Add cream and eggs. Add rest of ingredients, mixing lightly. Drop portions from end of spoon into greased baking sheets, and bake 12 minutes in moderate oven.

A New Strawberry Delight!

There's something as cooling and refrshing about a jellied salad as there is about a long, iced drink.

Considering what a comparatively short season strawberries have, it is almost crimnal not to use them every way possible. Why not kill two birds with ine stone by serving strawberries in a jellied salad for a change?

With tiny hot rolls or piping hot little browned bran muffins, strawberry mayonnaise salad is an inspiration for the hot days ahead. Iced tea, with a bit of mint, adds the nice touch. Or, if you prefer, hot tea or coffee.

Be sure to mold your salad in some attractive form. Coloured glass salad plates add their quota of charm on hot days, too. They can be had for so little to-day. Make your salad far enough ahead so that it can jell nicely and get icy cold.

For making strawberry mayonnaise salad you will need 2 cups fresh strawberries or tinned, hulled and sliced; 1-2 cup sugar; 1 package lemon-flavoured gelatin; 1 cup hot water; 1, teaspoon vinegar; 1-4 teaspoon salt; strawberry juice drained from the berries, with enough water added to make 1-2 cup; 2 tablespoons mayonnaise; 2 tablespoons whipped cream.

Combine the strawberries and sugar and let stand 10 minutes. Drain, saving the juice. Dissolve the gelatin in hot water and pour over the berries. Add vinegar, salt and strawberry juice and water. Chill.

When slightly thickened, fold in combined mayonnaise and whipped cream. Turn into a fancy mould and chill until firm.

Turn out into crisp lettuce. Garnish with whipped cream to which a little mayonnaise has been added. This serves eight generous helpings.

A GRIPPING TALE

Of The Live And Loves Of Sing Sing

Chalk up another smash hit for Warner Bros., who have been giving us the greatest lot of motion pictures we have seen this year or any other year, in "20,000 Years in Sing Sing," which is now showing at the Queen's Theatre, the Warner Bros.-First National studios have taken the sensational book of the same title by Lewis E. Lawes, Warden of Sing Sing Prison, and imbued it with a vitality and appeal that has made one of the most stirring film epics this reviewer has seen.

It is a picture which grips you, that holds you, fascinates you from starts to finish. For it presents in a most graphic style the lives and emotions of a 1000 men without women, and their women without—who wait for their men to serve their time with an undying loyalty—that even if misplaced, is nevertheless touching in its deepness. There is comedy, and poignant pathos to relieve the gripping story.

To Spencer Tracy must go the palm for one of the most sincerely impressive characterizations he has given. His work is a masterpiece. Spencer Tracy, is seen as Tom Connors, a former "big shot" who is sentenced to Sing Sing for an idefinite period from 5 to 30 years. Finn, a political leader, who accompanies Connors to Sing Sing tries to impress the Warden with the fact that Connors has important people behind him. He even offers the warden a bribe to go easy on Connors but there is no doubt left in Finn's mind and later Connor's mind, as to where they stand after the warden has finished talking to them. A desperate aborted attempt at a general jail delivery in which Connors was supposed to take part, was frustrated by the guards and the warden. This attempt to escape is one of the most dramatic scenes ever seen on a screen.

Throughout the story there runs a glowing romance which were if not for the fact that it involves a lawless person such as Connors, would be truly sublime.

Bette Davis plays the role of his sweetheart who is willing to wait until he has served his sentence, and hers too, is an inspired performance. Funn, the politician played by Louis Calhern, under pretense of working to effect Connors' release tries to win Fay, played by Bette Davis. She strings along with him, thinking he might be able to do her sweetheart some good. But when his advances become too obnoxious, she leaps from a speeding automobile and is severely injured.

Back in Sing Sing the warden hands Connors a telegram, telling him that his sweetheart is dying and offers to permit Connors to go to her unguarded if he will give his word of honour that he will return that night. Connors gives his word and arriving in New York hastens to her bedside. —she tells him what has happened. Finn arrives at that time with $5,000 with which he hopes to buy the silence of Fay. There is a vicious fight between the two men which ends when Finn is shot dead.

We are not going to tell you the rest of the story because we want you to see it for yourselve. The entire cast has been picked with the most careful attention to the smallest bit part that characterizes all Warner pictures. Mitchell Curtiz's direction is superb. You'll never forget "20,000 Years in Sing Sing," after you have seen it.

NEW STAR BORN

Margaret Sullavan In "Only Yesterday"

The most absorbing love drama to be shown locally for many years comes on Sunday for simultaneous showing at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres.

This remarkable picture is the Universal production "Only Yesterday," the crowning achievement of John M. Stahl, that master director of domestic problem plays. Surging emotions bring to the story a tense quality which is admirably interpreted by a real all star cast of 72 principals, headed by Margaret Sullavan, John Boles, Billie Burke and Reginald Denny, and also includes Edna Mae Oliver, Franklin Pangborn, Berton Churchill, Benita Hume, Onslow Sevens, June Clyde, Barry Norton Natalie Moorhead, Walter Catlett and Betty Blythe.

The story covers the exciting period between the entrance of America into the World War and the cataclysmic Stock Market crash of November, 1929. Against this panorama of American life is portrayed a vitally poignant love story which has never been equalled for sheer emotional quality on the screen. Even Stahl's own "Back Street" is unimportant beside the romance of Margaret Sullavan playing a naive, adorable Southern belle and John Boles the handsome thoughtless officer. Miss Sullavan, making her movie debut straight from "Dinner at 8" on Broadway, will also make screen history by her brilliant performance. You will see a new star born here.

FOX BRINGS OFF A "SCOOP"

George White's Scandals

Fox Film scoops the entertainment world in presenting one of the foremost theatrical institutions, "George White's Scandals," at the King's Theatre on Sunday. This is the first motion picture edition of the production, and George White has taken full advantage of the recent advancement in the art of talking pictures, wide-range sound, to produce what is reported as being one of the most lavish musical productions ever to be presented to the movie-going public.

Besides the original "Scandals" girls that were taken to Hollywood from New York, White also took with him his talented staff of song writers, dance directors and technicians. Capitalizing on the proven ability of his staff, he was able to inject hits, dance routines and spectacle that have made his past endeavours a by-word on Broadway. The "Scandals" boasts ten songs, all written by three of the country's foremost song writers, Jack Yellen, Irving Caesar and Ray Henderson. Eight eye-filling, colourful revues, with the dance numbers all directed by the master of them all, Georgie Hale, are featured in the production.

The film is constructed around a tender romantic story, interwoven with the spectacular revues and song hits. It is the story of a yonng man in the show who, although he loves his leading lady, falls victim to the attraction of a scheming young debutante, a celebrity-seeker of high standing. Realizing that this new romance threatens to ruin his show, George White, as the producer, devises a plan whereby the young man realizes his mistake, and goes back to his former love.

Rudy Vallee, Jimmy Durante, Alice Faye, Adrienne Ames, Cliff Edwards, Gregory Ratoff, Dixie Dunbar and Gertrude Michael are only a few of the principals of whom the large cast is composed.

The entire film was conceived, created and staged by George White. Thorton Freedland and Harry Lachman directed from the screen play by William Conselman. The production was made under the supervision of Robert T. Kane.

A Woman had bent one of the wings of the car in a slight accident, and she went to the garage.

WHARF ANGEL

Gripping Entertainment At The Alhambra

The colour of San Francisco's famous old Barbary Coast, the thrills of battling men maddened by love and the tender appeal of a love starved girl of the slums, enlivened by stirring scenes aboard ship make gripping entertainment of Paramount's "Wharf Angel," which opens to-day at the Alhambra Theatre.

Victor McLaglen and Preston Foster, as two contrasting, fearless men of action, give excellent performances, as does Alison Skipworth as the proprietress of the Barbary Coast dive. Perhaps the biggest surprise of the picture is the outstanding performance of Dorothy Dell, former Ziegfeld Follies singing star and "Miss Universe" of 1930, making her screen debut in the title role. She is as talented as she is charming.

The story deals with the love of the two men for Miss Dell, and their adventures, which take them to China and back, are climaxed in a denouement as thought provoking as the story's gripping theme.

Ingenious direction by William Cameron Menzies and George Somnes, and unusual photography by Victor Milner add much to the picture's effectiveness. Miss Dell's appealing song, "Down Home," was composed by Ralph Rainger to lyrics by Leo Robin.

SLEEPERS EAST

Good Fare At The King's

Featuring a cast of eight prominent players, "Sleepers East," Fox Film's latest release, makes its appearance on the screen of the King's Theatre to-day. The screen play, taken from Frederick Nebel's best seller, is reported as an exciting melodrama that abounds in action, romance, laughs and thrills.

The story, with the major part of the action taking place aboard an eastbound train, is constructed around a girl who is out on parole for a crime she did not commit. It becomes her misfortune to be the sole eye-witness to a murder committed by the Mayor's son. Fearing arrest, she flees to her home town and meets again her childhood sweetheart Afraid that he may learn of her past, she leaves immediately for another city. In the meantime the Mayor and his corrupt henchmen, seeking to win the forthcoming election, pin the crime on a public enemy. But the defending attorney learns the truth of the crime, and goes in search of the girl. He finds her and starts eastward. On board the train a battle ensues, one side endeavouring to get the girl to the trial, the other making a desperate effort to prevent her from testifying. It is upon the outcome of this battle of wits that the film has one of the most outstandingly dramastic climaxes ever to be screened.

Wynne Gibson has the feminine lead, with Preston Foster, who was last seen in "Hoopla," playing opposite her. The other members of the well-rounded cast are Mona Barrie, Harvey Stephens, Hogre Imhof, J. Carrol Naish, Howard Lally and Suzanne Kaaren.

THEY JUST HAD TO GET DIVORCED

Corinne Griffith And Katharine Hepburn

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, May 8.

Corinne Griffith has just divorced her husband.

Katharine Hepburn (who is trying to out-Garbo Garbo at the Sphinx stuff) pretends loftily that she knows nothing about any divorce; but the fact is that she, too, has just divorced her husband.

Corinne Griffith's husband was Mr. Walter Morosco, film director. He was Husband No. 2; No. 1 was W. H. Campbell. The grounds of the divorce were "mutual consent," quite sufficient ground for a divorce in Texas, where this divorce was granted.

"Only Answer"

After the divorce Miss Griffith said (according to Reuter): "There is a very good chance of a reconciliation with Mr. Morosco. Our problem is purely personal. Divorce was the only answer to it."

The lawyer who acted for Miss Griffith was the lawyer who acted for Miss Norma Talmadge when she was granted a divorce from Mr. Joseph M. Schenck recently.

Corrine Griffith is 34. Was a professional dancer before she became a film star, and "cut more ice" in films before the talkies came than she does now. Came to England not long ago to play in Michael Arlen's "Lily Christine."

Has one thing that no other Hollywood star has—a chateau in France.

Kenneth MacKenna directed from the screen play by Lester Cole.

ALLEGED LONG FIRM FRAUD

The case in which Jose Lizarraga of Manila, Wong Sau Mo of Shanghai and Nicholas Levitsky, alias Mecan, alias Levin, alias Macon, alias Lemon, a Russian were charged with long firm fraud before the Chief Justice at the Criminal Session was continued yesterday when a number of witnesses were called in support of the Crown case.

The hearing will be continued on Friday when three further witness for the Crown will be called.

TOUCHING A CONSTABLE

Results In A Fine

On a summons for having assaulted Chinese constable Lo Wo in the execution of his duty at Fort Street, C. Lauritson, managing director of the Dragon Motor Car Company was fined $10 by Mr. Hamilton at Central Magistracy yesterday.

Sergeant Kelly said that at noon on May 13 there was a fight between a Portuguese boy and a Chinese boy employed by defendant. The Portuguese boy apparently got the better of the fight, and the Chinese boy ran into the house and came out with a knife, threatening to kill the Portuguese boy.

The matter was reported to the police, and he sent Chinese constable Lo Wo to make inquiries. The constable went to defendant's house, and some altercation took place. The constable was speaking in Chinese, and defendant in English. Some argument apparently took place, and the constable alleged that defendant struck him.

Defendant denied having struck the constable, but admitted having touched him. The constable, he said, was talking to a young lady, and he thought he was abusing her. Accordingly he put his hand on the constable's shoulder and was going to turn him round, when his hand came up against the constable's face. He certainly did not strike him, but he would plead guilty to a technical offence.

Mr. Hamilton remarked that he would have to impose a nominal fine for having laid hands on the constable.

RETURNED BANISHEES SENTENCED

One Banished Last Month

Two men, Leung Sai Cheung and Wong Chung Fu, entered a dwelling house in Lockhart Road and stole an electric iron, a pair of brown leather shoes and a pair of tweed trousers valued at $30, the property of Mr. Taniguchi, and were charged before Mr. Hamilton, at the Central Magistracy yesterday.

Leung Sai Cheung was also charged with the theft of a suit of cotton clothing and a cotton singlet from 72 Hennessy Road, the property of Fung Po, and also with having returned from banishment.

A total of twelve months' hard labour was imposed on Leung Sai Cheung, while Wong Chung Fu was sentenced to six months' hard labour.

Yip Kwan, unemployed, was sentenced to twelve months' hard labour for having returned from banishment. He was banished for five years at the beginning of this month.

CONCEALED SMALL-POX CASES

Two In One House

Wan Hon, summoned before Mr. Hamilton, at the Central Magistracy yesterday, for having secreted a case of small-pox at No. 10 Chung Ching Street, first floor, was fined $10 or in default two weeks.

Mr. Hamilton remarked that the child might have died by accused not reporting the case, apart from the danger of spreading the disease.

In reply to Mr. Hamilton, Inspector Clarke said defendant was in dry poor circumstances.

Wan Foon was also summoned in connection with a similar offence in the same house, and was fined $10 or in default two weeks' imprisonment.

ALLEGED FALSIFYING OF ACCOUNTS

Defendant's Bail Estreated And Warrant Issued

Bail of $6,000 was estreated and a warrant issued for his arrest was issued by Mr. Macfadyen in the Central Police Court yesterday, when Chiu Yick Sam alias Chiu Sze Kei, failed to make an appearance on remand charges of alleged falsifying of the accounts of the Kwong Sui Yuen firm to the extent of $5,327.91 between March 8, 1931 and October 28, 1933, and, secondly, with stealing the money.

Mr. P. H. Sin, who appeared for the prosecution, stated that he had received a letter from Mr. C. Y. Kwan late on Tuesday night to say that he had received no further instructions to defend. His Worship would remember that when the case was first brought up last week, he (Mr. Sin) intimated that further charges were pending and that they had had great difficulty in finding the defendant.

The Magistrate remarked that at the last hearing he considered the actual amount of the sum identical in both charges, and that it was adequately covered by the large bail.

Mr. Sin: Mr. Kwan does not know of the defendant's whereabouts. I apply to your Worship or a warrant for his arrest.

His Worship accordingly estreated the bail of $6,000 and issued a warrant.

BOARDING OFFENCE

Tong Sze, an unemployed, appeared before Commander Hole at the Marine Court yesterday charged with boarding the Dutch steamship, "Tjisaroea," last Tuesday afternoon, without the permission of the master or the officer-on-duty.

Pleading guilty, the defendant told his Worship that he was asked by his friend to take some luggage on board the ship. He did not know it was unlawful as he boarded the steamer for only a few minutes.

A fine of $10 or, in default, one week's hard labour was imposed.

UNLAWFUL DREDGING

For using grappling iron or other means for the purpose of lifting articles from the bed of the Harbour near the Yaumati Typhoon Shelter last Tuesday, without the permission of the Harbour Master, Tong Kan, master of Fishing Boat No. 3542Y, was fined $3 or, in default three days' hard labour by Comdr. Hole at the Marine Court yesterday.

MAINTENANCE CASE

Home Order Locally Agreed To

A provisional maintenance order made against Albert Edward Greenway at, Highgate, Middlesex, on February 23, 1934, for payment of £2 a week in respect of Elizabeth Greenway was confirmed by Mr. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday.

Describing himself as a painting contractor, Greenway produced a statement of accounts of his business during the 12 months from May 1, 1933, to April 30, 1934, showing a profit of $2,400.

Asked what money he had been sending Home during the last 12 months, Greenway said he remembered sending sums of £10, £8 and several times £1, making approximately £30 in all.

"I can meet the order of £2 a week now, but if my contracts stop, I will not be able to continue," he added.

His Worship:—I must confirm the order made by the learned Magistrate at Home. You pay in the amount necessary to buy a draft for £8 at the current exchange. You pay that in monthly into this Court by the fifth of each month. I think that's fair.

Greenway:—Yes, it's quite fair.

His Worship:—If things go bad for you, don't merely stop paying, but come to Court and see what can be done.

COMMITTED TO SESSIONS

On A Larceny Charge

Chan Wing, charged with larceny of a lady's brown fur coat and two pairs of flannel trousers, from Harbour View, Chatham Road, was yesterday afternoon committed to the Criminal Sessions for trial when he came before Mr. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistracy.

The defendant was seen by Ip Chan, the No. 1 Boy of Harbour View, and Pak Tau, the No. 1 Dining Room Boy, attempting to climb out of a window on the ground floor. As soon as defendant saw that the game was up he dropped the stolen articles and bolted down Chatham Road. An unknown Portuguese stopped him and handed him over to the two boys, who in turn handed the accused over to the Police.

In a statement made to the Police, the accused said "I did steel." Accused had just been discharged from prison after serving a three months' sentence for larceny.

* * *

On a charge of assaulting a man with a wood chopper, Au Sung, 26, a street coolie was fined $30, or, in default three weeks' hard labour by Mr. MacFadyen at Central Magistracy yesterday. It was stated that the fight was over a debt, and that the men were known to each other.

When charged before Mr. MacFadyen at Central Magistracy yesterday for hawking five pigeons without a licence, a young Chinese alleged he was assaulted by Chinese Constable C138. He was sent to hospital and an examination revealed bruises. Inspector James said that the allegation against the constable is being dealt with departmentally.

ECHOES OF 1861

8—Kowloon Becomes British

As Saturday last, the 18th January, may possibly become a red letter day in the annals of this Colony, we proceed to relate the event on which depends the decoration of its anniversary in our almanack, with all the veracity and succinctness we are capable of.

At about a quarter to 3 p.m. the Earl of Elgin, and Sir Hercules Robinson, landed on the Cowloon shore in the small bay immediately to the North of the pirate village of Cheem-cha-tsoey, and which faces Stone Cutters Island. Their excellencies were accompanied by Lady Robinson and other ladies of the Colony, and were duly received by a guard of the 44th regiment with all the honors due to their respective ranks.

The distinguished party then took the direct road to the hill which is situated on the Eastern side of the level space whereon the Seikh Cavalry used to exercise, and which we doubt not will long be identified by their daring evolutions. On this hill, a temporary flag staff had been erected, around which a number of seats were placed for the reception of the public. Immediately below this flag staff sat the Earl of Elgin and Sir Hercules Robinson. To the right of the Earl, sat the Chief Justice—no other high officer was on the benches under the flag staff. Mr. Parkes, and the Honorable Mr. Wortley (we believe) stood to officiate before the Earl and Sir Hercules. Immediately below them sat four Chinese officials, one having a red button, one a blue button, and two gold buttons. (These were the Cowloon commandant and we presume the three elders of that town). Round the officials we have named, sat and stood the public, a considerable concourse of people being present, with a far larger portion of the fair sex than we ever saw congregated together in one place in China before. About eighteen hundred troops were drawn up in double line facing the hill on the Western side of the Seikh level. All things being ready, the Imperial proclamation ceding the territory was unfolded by Mr. Wortley, and exhibited—that gentleman holding one end, and a private soldier the other.

GREAT CHANGES IN ITALY

Interesting Talk On 'Fascism' By Mr. E. Bacci

At the Hongkong Hotel yesterday, Mr. E. Bacci, addressing a large gathering gave an exhaustive talk on "Fascism" in the course of which he explained many phases of the movement which had been a closed book to quite a number of his listeners. The address was followed with keen interest by the audience.

Among those present were:—The Rt. Rev. Bishop Valtorta, Hon. Sir Shouson Chow, Hon. Mr. R. H. Kotewall, Hon. Mr. T. N. Chau, Sir William Hornell, Mr. Kwok Siu Lau, Mr. G. P. De Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Gipperich, Mr. A. el Arculli, Rev. Fr. G. Byrne, Professor Robertson, Professor and Mrs. R. Forster, Professor Middleton Smith, Mr. Wong Kwong Tin, Mr. I. P. Law, Mr. Harold Seth, Mr. and Mrs. Piovanelli.

The Italian Consul, Signor A. Bianconni presided.

Effects Of The World War

Mr. Bacci said in part:—

Those who read the papers all realise that a vast work of reconstruction is taking place in my country. Those who have included Italy in their travels, all, without exception, come back amazed at the great change they find there. They find a new art, a new architecture, new houses, new roads, new bridges, new railways, even new cities which have sprung up in places which a few years ago were marshes and uninhabitable, unhealthy land. They find a new social regime which has made all this revival of energies possible, a regime which has introduced an unparalleled sense of order. It is a known fact, that even the bitterest enemies of Italian Fascism recognise, that the new social system has brought about a beneficial change to our country and has created an unprecedented example in the history of the world, an example of a wilful and organised progress. Fascism to-day occupies the serious and conscientious attention of the whole world. It is about that inner life of the Italian people of which I want to speak to you to-day—about that inner flame which keeps Italian Fascism alive and ever developing.

Something Wrong.

I hardly need to emphasise the fact, that since the Great War something has gone wrong somewhere. The struggle for existence is getting harder and harder every day: and the curious fact about it is that every class of human society has been hit in the very same way, whether rich or poor, labourer or capitalist, the bourgeoisie and even the military cast—society does not seem to be able to lift herself to her feet again. And yet it demands to-day less than it ever did before, merely the right to live. The civilisation of the last century that started at the time of the discovery of America and has lasted until our days has been based on the principle of sale and purchase—capitalism and market. Capitalism in the last two decades became inflated. Its degree of magnitude passes from a million to a billion and, using the expression of Mussolini "It is a veritable Tower of Babel. The size of the enterprise overtaxes the capacity of mankind. Formerly it was the spirit which controlled matter, now it is matter which moulds and curbs the spirit. That which was physiological becomes pathological, everything becomes "abnormal." The markets on the other hand are shrinking every day; the superproduction finds itself surrounded by unsurmountable walls, high tariffs and keen competition. Italy after the War found herself in the very same impasse. She realised at last that the last century civilisation was lacking the most essential factor for any survival and continuity—the Ideal. We could no longer live without an ideal. The materialism of the world became intolerable and a revolution, ladies and gentlemen, took place in Italy—a revolution in the very souls of the people—not a revolution where the lowest passions of the population brings it into the streets to fight and to satisfy its bloodthirsty instincts.

When the World War was finished, we found ourselves in a world that ignored the very principles for which millions of soldiers of many nations died on the battlefields. Italy alone lost for the common cause 700,000 dead and had over two millions of mutilated and wounded.

MORE

Post-War Italy

And, just as the world in general to-day, we in Italy found ourselves after the War facing exactly the same problems—antagonism between capital and labour: industrial over-production without adequate distribution: a constantly growing disoccupation: intense disagreement between political parties, which was the inheritance of the democratic parliamentary system: and, finally our own subconscious knowledge that if a sensible modus vivendi was not found, the country would simply go to the dogs. Italy is not a rich country and, therefore, she could not afford the caprices of one or another faction of society. Strikes, for example, which were such a common occurence in the period immediately following the War would not only have been detrimental to the economical position of Italy, but if not stopped in time, would have meant a virtual suicide. On the other hand the labouring classes were not entirely to blame. Capital with its potential latent power to mutiply wealth was not always as active as it should have been. Its inveterated sense of property and security was stronger by far than its common sense. Under the words of "democracy" and "freedom" the professional and able politician was stirring class hatred and brewing trouble. A few years of struggle to readjust the country's affairs on the old basis of life proved to every conscientious citizen of all the different classes of society the fruitlessness of such an effort and convinced him definitely that a new order of things must be created. The state of mind of the whole population at the time can be defined in a slogan "Peace and Reconstruction." Peace between the different factions of society, principally Labour and Capital, and co-operation, at any cost, to ensure our successful existence in the family of nations. First and above all, everybody agreed and understood that those who would hinder progress must go at once. In such a serious work there is no place for professional politicans, there is no time for oratorical debates. The slightest deviation from the common cause would cost too many more sacrifices to be endured by the population. The old regime had had its chance. It had failed. Once more the supreme authority of the people and common sense triumphed in the history of mankind. Forty millions strong, the Italian people expressed the will to modernise, to bring the social machine on the place of up date requirements, material and spiritual, and to keep pace with the ever progressing sciences. There was not one country in the world from which we could draw an inspiration, or copy. Russia it is true was already engaged in a remodelling of a social system in her own country, but Marxism and Bolshevism, with their destructive tendencies, are alien to the Italian mind. To rebuild reasonably, taking into consideration historical experiences and using material already at hand, in favour of all the classes, and factions of Italian society, was our aim, and not a ruthless destruction of every institution and tradition as the Bolsheviks did in favour of one dominating labouring class of peasants and workers. We can call Bolshevism an experiment: we can call Italian Fascism a logical and modern evolution.

New Systems.

The newly formed social and economical system which succeeded the old one in Itlay is marking a new and more glorious epoch in history. This substitution of the new for the old leaves no single side of life unaltered, but, in spite of this, Italian Fascism has not destroyed any of them. It has re-

HOPED TO KEEP TWO WIVES

On a $1.30 Wage a Day!

The case in which a young Chinese named Chan Siu Tim was charged with procuring intimacy with Cheung Yuk Yip by falsely pretending that he was going to marry her as a "kit-fat" wife was concluded at Central Magistracy yesterday, judgment being reserved.

That the case had attracted considerable interest among the Chinese was evidenced by the large crowd that turned up, filling the vicinity around the Court, as far as Arbuthnot Road, to capacity, and the police as well as the Magistrate himself had to come out and disperse them.

Prior to the opening of the case, the Magistrate (Mr. Hamilton warned the crowd that if they created the slightest noise, he would close the court and keep them there until 10 p.m. "Keep absolute silence during the proceedings," said his Worship.

Promise of Marriage

The case against the defendant, according to evidence given by the complainant at the previous hearing, was that they had known each other for about two and a half years and had been intimate on and off for a year. They first became acquainted in the middle of 1932 at a friend's house. For some time they went out together and on one occasion, it was alleged, the defendant seduced her in his house by promising that he would marry her as his "kit-fat" wife. On February this year, the defendant went to the country and married another girl.

After the case for the prosecution had been closed, his Worship addressing the defendant said: The case against you is this. Evidence has been given that from time to time you have been intimate with this girl. It has been given in evidence by her that you promised to marry her as a "kit-fat" wife, and it has been substantiated by the sworn testimony of her aunt and her sister. It now appears that your promise to marry her is untrue, and you therefore obtained carnal knowledge with this girl by false pretences.

His Worship concluded by enquiring whether the defendant would like to make a statement either in the dock or in the box.

Warned Her First

Giving evidence in the witness-box, the defendant said that when he first kept company with the complainant, he made it clear to her that he had already been bethrothed to a girl in the country for five years. The complainant replied that if that was the case he might marry the girl in the country first saying that she did not mind at all. After he had known her for several months, he asked her whether her parents had known about their relationship. She told him that she had already informed her parents who had asked her aunt to discuss the question of marriage with him.

On a Saturday, the complainant came to his house and took him to see her aunt about the arrangement of the marriage.

After they had become acquainted the complainant asked him for a dollar each week, saying that she would save the money to meet the wedding expenses.

He admitted that he had been intimated with her in an empty house next door to the complainant's.

At the beginning of this year, he saw complainant talking to a shoe-maker, which he resented. He told her of this, but the complainant replied that if he would not marry her, she would not mind. After this, he walked away, but the complainant took off her clogs and hit him with them. He ran up to his house, and the complainant's father and several of his fokis, later attempted to come up and hit him. They were stopped by his parents and relatives, and the complainant's father threatened to have him killed.

In answer to his Worship, defendant said that he married the girl in the country last January.

Did you promise to marry the complainant before you seduced her the first time? Yes, I did.

What sort of marriage?—To marry her as my wife.

How many wives are you going to marry?—Two.

You cannot marry two "kit-fat" wives?—I did not mention "kit-fat," I merely said I would marry her as a wife.

What sort of a wife?—I intended to marry her as a "chip-chi" (concubine).

What ceremony you propose to make?—Like a "kit-fat" wife.

At this stage, Mr. Start of the S.C.A. informed his Worship that when defendant came to the S.C.A. he offered to marry the complainant as a "ping chai" (equal wife) but the latter refused.

His Worship (to defendant): You intend to marry her as an equal wife?—Yes.

What salary are you getting?—$1.30 a day.

You expect to support two wives on that?—The complainant told me that if my salary is not sufficient, she would go out and work.

In reply to a further question, defendant said that he first became intimate with the complainant in November last year and not a year ago. He did not know that the girl was pregnant, nor did he inform the girl in the country that he was going to marry the complainant.

The defendant's father, Chan Chiu told the Court that his son had told him that he would marry the complainant as a "ping-chai." He was not in favour of his son having two wives.

Complainant's father, Cheung Chak Man, said that he knew nothing of the affair. The flat next door to his had been vacant and he held the key.

At this stage, His Worship said he would reserve judgment and remanded the case until 10 o'clock on Saturday morning.

Before leaving the Court, Mr. Hamilton, addressing the crowd, asked them to leave the court quietly and if he found them hanging around in the compound he would fine them $5 each.

"No use you coming here on Saturday, because I shan't want you here," said his Worship.

THE CANCER CAMPAIGN

LOCAL WEDDINGS

Mr. B. Rasmussen And Miss N. L. May

Mr. B. Rasmussen, the popular swimmer and interport oarsman, was yesterday married to Miss Norma Louise May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. May. The Rev. Dr. Karl Ludwig Reichelt performed the ceremony at the Tao Fong Shan Chapel in Bishop's House.

The bride who was given away by her father was attended by her sister, Mrs. Thelma Heitmeyer, as maid of honour. Carrying a sheaf of Calla lilies, the bride presented a charming picture in a gown of heavy white satin cut on classically simple lines with gracefully draped bodice and sleeves. Her long tulle veil depended in a novel manner from orange blossoms on the shoulders with a smaller veil falling from a wreath of orange blossoms on the head.

Mrs. Heitmeyer wore a dress of Eau-de-nil crepe with accordian pleated puff sleeves and higt draped neckline finished with narrow accordian pleated frill. In her hair she wore an "alice" of lilies of the Valley. A sheaf of yellow and white gladioli which she carried completed a very becoming picture.

The bride's mother wore a smart navy blue gown of flowered silk, trimmed with pleated taffeta, with a lace straw hat to tone. She carried a bouque of African daisies.

Mr. Arthur C. Higgins attended the bridegroom as best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held at St. John's Cathedral Hall, where the many friends of the newly-wedded couple toasted the health of the bride and bridegroom.

The honeymoon will be spent in Europe, the bride's going away costume being an ensemble of flecked white silk crepe trimmed with faggotting, and with hat to match.

At Kowloon Union Church

The Rev. F. Short officiated at a very pretty wedding which was solemnised at the Union Church, Kowloon, yesterday, when Miss Phyllis May Capell, daughter of Mrs. N. Capell and the late Mr. J. R. Capell of Hongkong, became the bride of Mr. Ardon Osmond Hyland, Deputy Commissioner of Chinese Postal Service, Canton.

The bride who was attended by her sister, Miss Dollie Capell and by four other bridesmaids, (Miss Violet Capell, Marguerite Dawson, Marjorie White and Gertrude Engel) was given away by her brother Mr. R. S. Capell. Mr. Jock Lawson was best man.

The bride wore an ivory silk lace gown moulded to her slender figure, a unique of the gown being a long train from the shoulders, caught at the wrists with tiny pearls. Her only ornament was a pearl broach—a gift from her mother. She wore her mother's bridal veil of embroidered silk tulle with a cap of orange blossoms and a very pretty picture was completed by the bouquet of arum lilies which she carried.

Miss Dollie Capell wore a dress of saxe blue and silver, Two of the bridesmaids wore rose-coloured dresses of frilled organdie with floral halos of silver leaves and tiny flowers while the other two wore similar dresses in lemon. All of them carried bouquets in toning shades.

The bride's mother was elegantly gowned in cinnamon lace with hat to match and carried African daisies.

Following the wedding, a reception was given at the Peninsula Hotel where a large number of friends attended to drink to the health of the newly-wedded couple. The honeymoon is being spent at Fanling and Europe, the bride's going away dress being a white Peau d'Ange costume with Beret of floral woven straw, bag, shoes and gloves in harmony. "Eunice" was responsible for the gowns of the Bride, Bridesmaids and the Bride's mother.

THE SALE OF FOOD

"May I call your attention to the vital importance of food in relation to health and remind you that this Board has a duty to perform as the guardian of public health in the Colony," said Dr. Li Shu Fan at Tuesday's meeting of the Sanitary Board when he brought up the question of the control over the sale of food in the Colony. We congratulate Dr. Li on the attitude he adopted for we feel that like the lack of more open spaces, the lack of control over the sale of food must have an extremely detrimental effect on the health of the community in general. Dr. Li's motion and the reply of the President of the Sanitary Board have been reported at length and need no recapitulation here. We can only add that it was surprising that such an important question had not come up long before now, but it is to be hoped that some reform will be achieved following the disclosure of how lax the authorities have been over this question.

One of the most dangerous sources for the spreading of diseases like typhoid, cholera and dysentery may be traced to the ice-cream sold by the multitude of hawkers that cry their wares in the streets. For the money charged for a glass of this ice-cream, one cannot expect the ingredients to approach anything like the best, and it would be the exception rather than the rule for the hawkers to boil the milk (made up by the simple process of stirring a spoonful of skimmed condensed milk in a jugful of water) before proceeding to make the ice-cream. Then there is the danger of everybody using the same half-a-dozen glasses which are washed everytime after use by simply dipping them into the pail of water that is changed once daily!

Dr. Li dealt with the precarious situation in connection with the sale of cooked meat without licence from the Board, and without any form of control. One has only to walk through the Chinese quarters to find roast pork or fowl, hung up outside the shop to attract buyers. These are periodically "run over" with a brush, dipped into oil, to make them present a "fresh appearance," and in the meantime, flies, dust and insects all settle on them. There are no glass cases to keep out the "undesirable elements," and as Dr. Li said, there is no assurance that the fowl offered for sale was not picked up from the backyard after it had died of disease. As regards Eating Houses and Restaurants, a peculiar condition prevails because, although the Sanitary Board is the licencing authority for Eating Houses, the Secretary for Chinese Affairs is the licencing authority for Restaurants. The only difference between the two is that the latter are permitted to sell liquor while the former are not. Actually, the Sanitary Board has no direct authority over Restaurants. The Sanitary Department, however, visits and reports on their sanitary conditions only once a year as a routine, before the issue or renewal of licences by the Secretary for Chinese Affairs. The latitude allowed in this connection is obvious. It was stated that as the Police were not represented on the Board, they had not had the opportunity of discussing the matter though the I.G.P. is not well disposed to any alteration to the present scheme of licensing hawkers. His reasons have not been stated, but surely he will not raise any objections if the change should result in the elimination of at least some of the sources of disease and consequently the improvement of the health of the community?

The remedies suggested by Dr. Li are simple and inexpensive, and as the registration fees for hawkers in connection with the "reform" will only be a nominal one, no great hardship will be imposed on anybody. Some system for the control over the sale of food in the Colony is very necessary. We commend Dr. Li's proposals heartily.

Police Officer's Little Daughter

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. T. Murphy will learn will deep regret of the death of their little daughter, Colleen Mary, which occurred at the Kowloon Hospital yesterday morning.

The little girl was taken ill on Saturday and on her condition becoming serious was admitted to the hospital where her complaint was diagonised as blood poisoning.

The funeral took place last evening and was largely attended.

EMPIRE DAY

Earl Jellicoe's Message

The following is Earl Jellicoe's Empire Day Message to all members of the British Empire:—

"It is my privilege, as President of the Empire Day Movement, once again to send a message of warmest greeting to all parts of His Majesty's Dominions. In doing so this year, it is with very real pleasure that I note the change that has taken place during the last twelve months in the economic situation—a change which has resulted in a steady improvement in trade and a gradual but sure diminution in the figures of unemployment, the problem which has been the cause of much anxiety during the last few years, and which has given rise to so much distress.

"The road to our old prosperity may still be lengthy, but the spirit which has enabled our people throughout the Empire to overcome the formidable difficulties which confronted us two years ago will unquestionably remain to enable us to meet any troubles yet before us. Unity, comradeship and sympathy between the people who compose our great Empire are, and ever will be, essential to its strength and prosperity.

"The well-being and happiness of 493 million people depend upon Empire, prosperity, and undoubtedly the peace of the world is largely affected by the influence which the Empire can exert upon international problems. For this influence our combined strength is necessary.

"The Empire Day Movement exists to impress upon the people of the Empire their responsibility in these matters.

"May this Empire Day be celebrated with one thought in each mind: that our Empire, with God's blessing, shall grow stronger and stronger in the cause of World Peace and Prosperity."

ATTACK ON WORLD'S SWIMMING RECORDS

WORLD AND OLYMPIC CHAMPIONS ON VIEW TO-NIGHT

Hong Kong's Unique Honour

(By "TROUT")

For the first time in the history of swimming in the Colony attempts to lower the times of five of the World's swimming records will be made by the Japanese Far Eastern and World Olympic swimming stars at the European Y.M.C.A. Bath, Kowloon, to-night.

Nineteen of the fastest swimmers ever seen in Hongkong will take part in the attempts to lower the records, which include the 100, 220 and 440 Yards in Free Style, the 150 Yards Back Stroke and the 200 Yards Breast Stroke Records. The exhibition is to be staged under auspices of the Hongkong International Amateur Swimming Association.

S. Makino, who hold the 1,000 Metres World record in 12 mins. 54-7/10 seconds, will take part in the 440 Yards Free Style, the present record of which is held by J. Weismuller of America in 4 mins. 52 secs.

In the 150 Yards Back Stroke event, Kawatsu who will be one of to-night's performers recently broke the World's 400 Metres Back Stroke event which was originally held by T. Iriye, also of Japan in 5 mins. 42 secs.

Kiyokawa who is also swimming in this event to-night broke Kawatsu's 400 Metres record in the second heat of their trials at Tokio and his record has been officially recognised by the International Federation.

T. Iriye who is another competitor to-night should do well in the event when he will be given a good race by Ake, a newcomer with tremendous speed and beautiful style. The latter is undoubtedly one of Japan's coming stars.

In the 100 Yards event with the exception of Takahashi who has previously been seen in Hongkong, the remaining three being newcomers.

Yusa has already been credited with breaking several records including the Far Eastern 100 Metres Record.

In the Breast Stroke challenge, Koike is by far the best Japanese breast stroker and although beaten in Manila should do better in the "Y" Bath where he will be swimming against time and with a fellow challenger.

I was told yesterday by one of the Japanese officials that Koike would have done better at the Far Eastern Games had he not be alone in the Breast Stroke event. At present he is in a class by himself among the Japanese swimmers and he should find the majority of eyes focussed on him to-night.

For the convenience of timing instead of all four challengers as the case may be, taking the water at the same time, the attempts have been divided into two heats of two swimmers each with the exception of the 440 Yards Free Style when three swimmers will leave the side together.

The following guests have intimated that they will attend to-night's exhibition by the Japanese swimmers.

Sir William Shenton and Miss Shenton, Brigadier G. B. Rowan Hamilton, The Acting Japanese Consul General, Mr. H. Acino and Mrs. Acino, the Chairman of the Hongkong International Amateur Swimming Association, Mr. Y. K. Mok and Mrs. Mok, Mr. and Mrs. Kwok Chan, Mr. J. L. Macpherson, Mr. and Mrs. Fujieda, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ross, Mr. S. Hiroaka, Mr. and Mrs. K. Watanabe and Mr. and Mrs. K. Manda.

The following is tonight's programme (not in correct order):—

100 yards Free Style—Heat 1, Yusa and Sakagami; heat 2, Takahashi and Toyoda.

220 yards Free Style—Heat 1, Shimura and Kataoka; Heat 2, Yokoyama and Sugimoto.

440 yards Free Style:—Makino, Kitamura and Honda.

220 yard Breast Stroke:—Heat 1, Koike and Haururo; Heat 2, Asaki and Yamada.

150 Yards Back Stroke:—Heat 1, Kawatsu and Kiyohawa; Heat 2, Irie and Ake.

TRACK, FIELD & TENNIS EXHIBITIONS

Japanese Visitors To Contest Local Athletes

This afternoon, on the Kowloon Cricket Club's ground, the Japanese track and field athletes will be giving an exhibition in several events against the best local talent, while later on in the evening the Japanese tennis stars will be opposed to the best of the Colony's players.

In the tennis events, S. A. Rumjahn, a past Colony singles champion, will oppose Hyotaro Satoh in a set of singles, while E. C. Fincher and L. Goldman, runners-up in the Colony doubles tennis championship, will meet Y. Yamada and H. Ebisu in a set of doubles, followed by another set of doubles in which the Rumjahn cousins, S. A. and H. D., holders of the Colony's doubles title, will play against Satoh and Yamagishi.

The programme for the track and field events which precede the tennis has been finally decided as follows:—

Track

100 yards sprint, 440 yards, 880 yards, one mile, and a relay race, two to run 220 yards and two to run 440 yards.

Field

Discus Throwing, Javelin Throwing and Putting the Shot.

The following members of the Lincolnshire Regiment will take part in the events: 100 yards, L/Cpl. Clayton and Pte. Griffiths; 440 yards, L/Cpl. Clayton, Pte. Wittlesworth and Pte. English; 880 yards, Cpl. Farmery and Thornhill; One mile, Farmery; Javelin, Dobbs and Atkens; Putting the shot, Cpl. Shnable, and Pte. Hough; Discus throwing, Lt. Ramus.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Two cases of enteric fever were reported for the 24 hours ended on May 22.

The Feast of Our Lady Help of Christians is to be celebrated today at St. Anthony Church, 179 Third Street, West Point, with a solemn High Mass at 8 a.m. only. At the Salesian Missionary Seminary, No. 1 Island Road, there will be a solemn High Mass at 10.30 a.m. In the evening there will be a Procession in the compound of the Seminary, followed by Benediction of Blessed Sacrament. All Co-Operators are invited to attend.

His Highness the Rajah of Sarawak, Sir Charles Vyner Brooke G.C.M.G., was able, in his speech at the twenty-fourth triennial session of the Council Negri, to disclose that with the improvement in economic conditions, and the revenue position it will be possible slightly to reduce taxation this year and, he hoped, restore the pay of Government servants which had been reduced as an economy measure. In the course of his address His Highness called attention to the fact that the exports of the country had declined from $63 millions in 1929 to $13½ millions in 1932 and imports from nearly $23 millions to $9½ millions.

ROOSEVELT'S MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

Recommendations On Silver Problem

Washington, May 22.

President Roosevelt has recommended to Congress mandatory legislation to make silver one-fourth of the metallic base of the United States currency.

The message stipulated that payments on silver purchases to build up the necessary reserve should be limited to fifty cents an ounce so far as domestic silver is concerned.

Pointing to a world-wide bi-metallic agreement as the ultimate solution of the silver problem, the President revealed that he had already begun negotiations with neighbouring countries with regard to the use of both silver and gold, preferably on a co-ordinated basis, as a standard of monetary value.

The President asked for authority to take over "the present surpluses of silver in this country not required for industrial uses on a payment of just compensation and to regulate imports, exports and other dealings in monetary silver.

The President has proposed a tax of at least fifty per cent. of the profits accruing from dealing in silver.

The President said "It is clear that we should not neglect the value of the increased use of silver in improving the monetary system. Some measures for making greater use of silver are appropriate for independent action by us, but for others International co-operation should be sought."

The President recommends legislation at the present session of Congress, declaring that it will be the policy of the United States to increase the amount of silver monetary stocks, the ultimate objective being the maintaining of one-fourth of the monetary value of the Country in silver to three-fourths in gold.

He added that the Executive Authority "should be authorized and directed" to make the silver purchases necessary to attain this objective.

TREASURY ESTIMATE

Washington, May 23.

The assumption that silver for currency reserve purposes will be valued at $1.29 an ounce is made by Treasury officials in measuring the supply of the white metal which it will be necessary to acquire in order to maintain the proposed 25:75 ratio with gold.

On this basis, the Treasury will need approximately 2,002,000,000 ounces against the current gold stock of $7,757,000,000.

The Treasury now has approximately 690,000,000 ounces of silver, not including any which may be held in the stabilisation fund. It will therefore be necessary for the Government to acquire a further 1,300,000,000 in order to create its silver reserve.—Reuter.

WALL STREET OPINION

New York, May 23.

Wall Street interests see in Presidents, Roosevelt's silver message confirmation that the Treasury has been recently buying silver through the Stabilisation Fund. The opinion is expressed that purchases amounted to between thirty to forty million ounces, and therefore not over twenty million dollars are engaged in the market.—Reuter.

BANK MANAGER'S STATEMENT

Attitude of China

Shanghai, May 23.

The statement that Mr. Tsu Yee Pei, manager of the Bank of China welcomes President Roosevelt's silver message mainly on the ground of silver speculation will be greatly discouraged by the likelihood of practical stability.

The messages is particularly acceptable because it seems to be based on international as much as national considerations, and also because it appears to indicate that some form of bi-metallism is desired.

Whether bi-metallism is establishable is uncertain, but any policy tending to stabilise silver and lift it from the speculative arena must be welcomed by China.—Reuter.

A CAUTIOUS VIEW

London, May 23.

The London "Daily Telegraph" adopts a cautious view and declares that it is clear that President Roosevelt has been persuaded to give the silver interests a great deal. It remains to be seen, however, what is the relative importance of the manditory and permissive clauses of the new Silver Bill.

Upon that depends whether the message is epoch-making or not more than a minor concession to political pressure and inflationist sentiment, the journal adds.—Reuter.

LONDON "TIMES" COMMENT

London, May 23.

President Roosevelt's message emphasises the necessity of reaching a world agrement to raise the price of silver and stabilise it at a higher level, states "The Times" in a leading article.

It is assumed that President Roosevelt will not rush to buy millions of ounces at fancy prices, which would have a disturbing effect on the exchange value of silver currencies and on the trade of all silver-using countries.

It is extremely doubtful how far prices can be affected by manipulating the metallic content of a currency unit.

The rise in American internal commodity prices in the past year is more probably the result of lavish Government expenditure of credit money during that period.—Reuter.

PARALLEL MEASURES

London, May 23.

President Roosevelt's aim is to induce other nations to join the United States in parallel measures, declares the "Financial Times," in a leading article on the American silver plan.

The President has both raised a wide issue of international co-operation and prepared a way of retreat for himself.

The preparatory commission of exports before the Monetary Economic Conference, pointed out that the bimetallic standard, which pre-supposes the fixed relation between the value of gold and silver, must be regarded as impracticable, the journal declares.

On that assumption, silver is unsuitable for extensive inclusion in the metallic reserves of central banks.

Finally, experts are of the opinion that from the point of view of commercial relations with China, trade interests would best be served not by a rise in the price of silver as such, but by a rise in the general level of commodity prices.

These conclusions give little room for hope that any international plan, sponsored by President Roosevelt, can succeed the newspaper states.—Reuter.

MISS BATTEN HAPPY

Thrilled To Be Here

London, May 23.

Miss Batten, interviewed by Reuter on her arrival in Darwin, said "I had a gruelling flight across the Timor Sea. Head winds were blowing for miles south of the course.

"The crossing occupied seven and a half hours, but I had no difficulty in finding Darwin.

"I am thrilled to be here after the third attempt. I am informed that I had beaten Amy Mollison's record by four and a half days. As I have said, I am glad, but pleased to have made the trip whether I broke the record or not.

"I had an adventurous trip in frightful weather throughout. The machine is four years old, but functioned perfectly. The worst part of the trip was crossing from Burmah.

"It is doubtful if I will enter for a centenary flight as the speed of the machine is only eighty miles an hour."

Miss Batten feels perfectly fit. The first request on her arrival was "where can I get a cup of tea?" Then she had a wash.

She had to be her own mechanic at Kupang where she spent the afternoon and early morning overhauling the engine as no assistance was available.

Miss Batten's mother waited all night long at the telephone hearing the news and exclaimed: "Splendid, it's wonderful; I feel the happiest of women in London and could hug you, Jean!"—Reuter.

SALVADOR AND MANCHUKUO

New Problem For The League

Geneva, May 22.

The news that Salvador has recognised Manchukuo not only marks the first breach in the United front of the Powers towards Manchukuo, but raises the question of how far it affects the fundamentals of the League of Nations itself.

When the League Special Assembly, on March 11, 1932, passed a resolution in regard to the non-recognition of Manchukuo, only one Power, Siam, abstained from voting.

Salvador, which attended all the meetings, did not vote, but did not announce her intention to abstain.

The League jurists hold, therefore, that Salvador must be deemed to have adhered to the resolution. Consequently, the question arises, how far has Salvador violated the Covenant and exposed herself to censure under Article XVI., which would undoubtedly lead to her expulsion from the League.

It is doubtful, however, whether the Council will take any action, especially as they have no official intimation of Salvador's decision.

The matter, however, may come before the China Advisory Committee.

A most complicated and serious situation is expected to develop, especially as the Salvodor decision might help to circumvent the embargo on opium import licences, which were established, as far as the Manchukuo Government is concerned.—Reuter.

SABOTAGE IN AUSTRIA

Large Number Arrested

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

Vienna, May 22.

Large numbers of National-Socialists variously estimated from between 150 and 200 have been arrested up till now on the charge of complicity with the widespread sabotage campaign against the railways, power supply and other public services. Amongst those arrested is the National Socialist ex-regional leader for lower Austria, retired army captain Josef Leopold who was apprehended at Krems on Monday.

Those arrested assert their complete innocence, declaring that it is more probable that the attacks on the railways were carried out by extreme Marxists or Communists, such being the orthordox methods of the Left parties.

That the government continues to release prominent Marxists involved in the revolt on February 12, for instance retired General Schneller, retired General Mayer, ex-Chief of the Fire Brigade of Vienna, Herr Wagner, before the real authors of the sabotage acts have been discovered, causes considerable uneasiness, particulary as it is believed that only a minor part of the whole plot was reported in the Press. Under these circumstances a demand is being raised for the formation of a voluntary self-defence corps to protect life and property from violent outbursts of extreme political factions —Transocean Kuo Min.

U. S. CONTROL OF TEXTILES

Working Hours Curtailed

Washington, May 23.

The National Recovery Administrator, General Hugh Johnson, has announced that beginning on June 4, the cotton and textile industry will limit the use of productive machinery to 75 per cent. of the present maximum hours in force for an emergency period of 12 weeks.

It is hoped thereby to reduce the maximum use of machinery from 80 to 60 hours a week.

Exceptions are made in the rayon industry, which will not be put on the loom-hour basis, while the synthetic industry will have an eight-week programme of curtailed output.—Reuter.

CODE'S STATISTICS

New York, May 23.

In connection with the 25 per cent. curtailment in the cotton and textile industry for twelve weeks, Mr. Sloan chairman of the Code Authority, states that unsold stocks of cotton goods on April 30 amounted to 33,000,000 yards, while weekly sales in April averaged $80,000,000 weekly. The production averaged 130,000,000 million yards or 62 per cent. above the current demand. The decreased demand was particularly marked in the second half of April when sales were only 47 per cent. of the production.—Reuter.

THE SPIRIT OF CRICKET

Sportsmen's Welcome To Australians

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, May 8.

The members of the Australian cricket team were the guests of the British Sportsmen's Club at luncheon at the Savoy Hotel yesterday. Each of them was presented with a silver ash tray, the gift of the hotel, bearing the inscription "I'm here for the Ashes." Lord Lonsdale, president of the Club, presided over a representative gathering, which included the Earl of Athlone (vice-president).

Lord Lonsdale read a telegram from the King sending his wishes to all present for a successful cricket season.

Lord Hailsham (President of the M.C.C.) proposed the health of the Australian cricketers, observing that that was the third time in five days that he had welcomed the Australian team, and that he hoped any lingering doubles that might have been entertained by some of the Australian team about their reception in this country had been dispelled by this time. He referred to the great roar of cheering from 100,000 Englishmen at the Cup Final when they heard the Australians were there as evidence of the popularity their visit. The Board of Control, he added, had been careful to select a most efficient Selection Committee, but he did not want them to infer from that that the results of the Test Matches were regarded here as the be-all or end-all of the Australian tour. In cricket, as well as in Euclid, the whole was greater than the part. The game was greater than the result. (Cheers.)

"If Australia Should Win"

Lord Hailsham proceeded:—

"Although we are all anxious and determined, if we can, to retain the Ashes, yet, if we should have to surrender them to superior prowess, or to better luck, we shall not regard that event as a national calamity. If Australia should win, our applause will be unstinted, our congratulations ungrudging, and our good wishes without reserve. That is why cricket is such a great game. Perhaps it is also the reason why cricket is so essentially an English game. It is part of our British inheritance. It is not without significance that, although football, lawn tennis, and golf were all invented within the British Isles, and although they have become international and world-wide, cricket never really flourishes outside the English-speaking peoples. (Cheers.) Surely there is no country in the world and no part of the Empire in which cricket has established itself so completely as it has in Australia. (Cheers.) . . . It is because Australian cricketers are such brilliant exponents of the technique of the game—still more because they are such worthy custodians of the spirit of the game—that they have always been acclaimed by our cricket-loving crowds, and I can assure Mr. Woodfull and his present side that the welcome which awaits them on our cricket grounds throughout the country will be as sincere and cordial as any that has been received by any of their distinguished predecessors." (Cheers.)

Mr. Woodfull's Reply

Mr. W. M. Woodfull, captain of the Australian team, replying to the toast, said that they were never in doubt about the reception they would have in the Homeland. The hospitality they had received during the last few days was beyond description. It was a great thing that after 50 years of Tests between the two countries that at this stage the scores should be level. They in Australian were rather proud of their achievements against the Motherland. He asked Lord Lonsdale to convey to the King the team's appreciation of his kind message of welcome. Those of them who had been here before realized the hospitality of his Majesty. During the tour of 1930 the greatest day was the day they were privileged to see him at his home in Norfolk.

Mr. H. Bushby, the manager of the team, repeated Mr. Woodfull's assurance that no member of the side had had any doubt about the welcome he would receive in England. They were all British, and the team had received nothing but kindness ever since they set foot in England. He added: "We are going to try to win. We have got a good team, the best we can get, and if you beat us we will be quite satisfied."

Among the company were:—

Mr. A. E. R. Gilligan, Mr. A. H. H. Gilligan, Lord Glanely, General Sir Hubert Gough, Lord Greenwood, Wing Commander Sir Louis Greig, Lord Hampden, Sir Edward Harding (Dominions Office), Lord Howe, Mr. J. H. Human (Captain, Cambridge XI.), Lieut.-General Sir Aylmer Hunter-Weston, Lord Illife, Sir Stanley Jackson (chairman of the Selection Committee), Lord Kimberley, Lord Leigh, Mr. H. D. G. Leveson-Gower, Lord Lewisham, Lord Lucan, Lord Lurgan, Mr. Justice Luxmoore, Sir Harry McGowan, Mr. J. C. McLaren (Acting High Commissioner for Australia), the Agents-General or other representatives of the States of the Australian Commonwealth.

Sir Charles Barrie, Sir Plunket Barton, Sir Charles Batho, Sir Harold Bowden, Lord Carnock, Mr. F. G. H. Chalk (Captain, Oxford XI.), Sir Claude Champion-de-Crespigny, Mr. A. P. F. Chapman, Brigadier-General Critchley, Sir Arthur Crosfield, Sir Noel Curtis-Bennett, Lord Darnley, Lord Decies (chairman of the British Sportsmen's Club), Lord Desborough, Sir Thomas Devitt, Major-General W. J. Dugan (Governor-designate of South Australia), Lord Ebbisham, Lord Essendon, Mr. P. G. H. Fender, Mr. W. Findlay (Secretary of the M.C.C.), Colonel Freyberg, V.C., Mr. C. B. Fry.

Cash sweep figures must have reached a new low level record during the last extra meeting, and on Saturday, it will be noted that not a single first prize exceeded $1,000 while on Monday there was only one race in eleven which passed this mark. On both days the "also rans" in the first race paid only $25. If the support to cash sweeps continue like this, it would not be a bad idea to consider the introduction of cash sweep tickets at $2 a time.

LAWN TENNIS MEETING

"C" Division To Be Resumed

At an extraordinary general meeting of the Hong Kong Lawn Tennis Association held in the Morning Post Board Room yesterday evening, a proposal by Mr. T. King of the Central British Association that "the "C" Division of the Lawn Tennis League be resumed as in previous years," was carried by a 11 to 10 vote.

Mr. R. E. Lindsell, President of the Lawn Tennis Association presided and was supported by Mr. S. A. Gray, Hon. Secretary, and members of affiliated Clubs.

The meeting was called at the instance of the Central British Association, the Kowloon Indians Tennis Club, the Craigengower Cricket Club, the Kowloon Bowling Green Club, and the Deutscher Klub, and the Radio Sports Club, all of whom protested that by dividing the "C" Division which was for junior teams in two sections, Kowloon and Hong Kong, it robbed them of an opportunity of improving their play and from meeting unknown talent.

Mr. Lindsell said he wished to make a few remarks before the proposals were put to the meeting. He said that when originally the entries were invited for the "C" Division, 16 entries in all were received and this was a very large number for one division of the League. The Lawn Tennis Executive Committee then decided that it would be best if two divisions were made for Kowloon and Hong Kong and this was accordingly carried out. Subsequently one of the teams dropped out from Kowloon, leaving seven teams there and only six games as each club played each other once.

The protest by the Clubs concerned meant that all the remaining 15 Clubs would then participate in one division and play fourteen games.

Mr. King then proposed that the "C" Division of the Lawn Tennis League be resumed as in former years.

Mr. Tetley on behalf of the Kowloon Bowling Green Club said that his Club had rather let him down as he personally was in favour of Mr. King's suggestion, although the Club of late had changed their mind and for reasons of finance had subsequently agreed to the Executive Committee's proposal of two divisions.

Mr. Tetley said he would like to propose an amendment in that the Kowloon Clubs could play home and away games, thereby bringing their total games to 12.

Mr. Lindsell then asked if someone would second Mr. King's original proposal which Mr. Howard did.

Mr. Leo D'Almada e Castro Jnr., on behalf of the Club de Recreio asked the Clubs to vote in favour of the programme as already drawn up for the question of expense among the smaller Clubs would always crop up.

As no one was prepared to second Mr. Tetley's amendment, it automatically lapsed.

Mr. King's proposal was then put to the meeting and carried by a single vote.

Mr. Lindsell in conclusion said the present arrangements in the "C" Division would be adhered to and meanwhile the League Secretary would draw up a supplementary programme which would be played on dates to be arranged later.

EXHIBITION SOCCER

Locals Defeat Japanese

There was not a large attendance, probably owing to the heat, to witness the match between the Japanese Olympic team and the Hong Kong F.A. on the Hong Kong F.C. ground yesterday evening, the F.A. winning by five goals to two. E. Strange did the "hat trick," scoring the first three goals of the match. Ukon, on the right wing of the Japanese team, scored both goals for the visitors.

The F.A. had a margin of one goal only at the interval, E. Strange beating Kanazawa after he had stopped a shot from A. V. Gosano.

The Japanese played a very close game and showed fine ball control and often had the defence beaten. Cord played well in goal for the F.A.

Strange put the F.A. two up early in the second half with a fast cross shot. After a couple of visits to Cord who cleared well from Kawamoto, the F.A. went down and E. Strange snapping up a pass from Malpas went in to beat that goalie with a fast low shot. Two goals then came in quick time from the Japanese, Ukon beating Cord on each occasion.

Ridley then scored for the F.A. beating the goalie in a race and turning the ball into an empty goal. A. V. Gosano completed the scoring shooting into the net from close range.

The teams:—

Japanese: — Kanazawa; Horie, Kawanishi; Misaki, Takigashi, Goto; Ukon, Nozawa, Kawamato, Nishimura and Otani.

H.K.F.A.:—Cord; Mullane, Morrison; Robertson, Podmore, Jones; B. Gosano, A. V. Gosano, E. Strange, Ridley, Malpas.

CHINESE OLYMPIC TEAM REQUEST GAME

Fixed For Saturday

The Chinese Olympic team returning from Manila has sent a wireless message requesting a match with the H.K.F.A. The Council of the Hong Kong F.A. met yesterday evening and selected the following players to meet the Chinese Olympic team on Saturday next on the Hong Kong F.C. Ground, at 5.30 p.m.:—

Cord; Mullane, Morrison; Robertson, Podmore, Jones; B. Gosano, A. V. Gosano, E. Strange, Ridley and Malpas.

Reserves:—S. Strange, Elliott and Hill.

RECORD CROWD ATTEND AQUATIC EXHIBITION

Japanese World Beaters Provide Delightful Entertainment

STYLE AND RHYTHM SUPERB

(By "SALMON")

There was a capacity gathering at the V.R.C. last night when the Japanese Olympic Swimmers gave an exhibition of both long and short distance swimming as well as events in back and breast strokes.

Among the large gathering were H.E. the Governor, Sir William Peel and Lady Peel, Sir Thomas Southorn and Lady Southorn, H.E. the Officer Commanding the Troops, Major General Borrett, Commodore Elliott as well as the Consul General for Japan.

Style and rhythm were the main assets of the Japanese who, in breaking several V.R.C. bath records appeared to do so without the least effort. As a matter of fact they were exerting themselves without appearing to do so for they have so perfected their stroke that any special effort on their part was not visible to the casual observer, since rhythm was the keynote of all their movements!

Souvenirs were presented at the conclusion of the sports by Sir Thomas Southorn.

THRILLING TEAM RACE STAGED

The main attraction of the evening was a novel form of team race between the visitors and the V.R.C.

100 Yards Free Style

Four members of the Japanese team faced the starter in the 100 yards Free Style. They were Messrs. Yusa, Toyoda, Takahashi and Sakayama. Some idea of the effortless way in which they proceeded about this race can be gauged by the fact that the four swimmers were together over the first three lengths obviously waiting for each other. Over the last length the four of them decided to make a race of it and Sakayama came home a touch ahead of Takahashi with Yusa third, a matter of inches behind and Toyada fourth, one yard in areas.

Although the pace seemed to be slow, yet it would surprise those who are familiar with swimming to learn that the time was 56.6 seconds.

150 Yards Back Stroke

There were three starters here, these being, Kiyohawa, World Olympic Breast Stroke Champion, Mr. Kawatru, who accounted for Kuyohawa in the Far Eastern Olympics and Irie who holds the highest points in aquatics in the Amsterdam Olympic games some years ago.

Here again it was obvious that the swimmers were not going all out although from start to finish Kawatru lead and ultimately finished half a length in front of Irie, with the world champion finishing third, three quarters of a length behind the second. The time for the race was 1.49 seconds.

150 Yards Breast Stroke

There were two heats in this exhibition. In the first heat Kioke, who was second in the Olympic games at Los Angeles was matched against Harmeiro who is the record holder for the 200 Metres breast stroke. The two made their swim in effortless manner, gliding along the water as though propelled by some unseen power. Kioke won the event by three feet in the xcellent time of 1 minute 56.2 seconds.

In the second heat Osaki lead all the way from Yamada finishing the distance in 2 minutes 4.4 seconds. The winner did not seem a bit extended at the end of the race.

500 Yards Free Style.

In the five hundred yards free style, the Japanese again staged two heats. All the stalwarts of the team were crowded into the first heat. They were Kitamura, holder of world's record of the 1,000 metres and champion of the 10th Olympic Games, Makino who hold the record for the 400 and 800 metres, and Shima who recently won the Far Eastern Championship over 400 Metres.

The three of them surprised the fans by sprinting all the way, and although the spectators were under the impression that they were all out, Makino, who won the race, put in a spurt towards the end which resulted in the last 100 yards being covered in 66 seconds and the last 50 yards in 31 seconds. The full time was 6 minutes 5.2 seconds. Shima finished second by a matter of inches while Kitamura was a fairly good third, being six yards behind the leaders.

In the second heat the swimmers were Kataoke, Sugimoto, and Yokoyama and they finished in that order. The only point of interest in this heat was that the three swimmers, who have not yet won world fame, set about their business in serious manner and the winner, actually bettered Makino's time by a little over a second, taking 6 minutes and 4 seconds for the journey.

Medley Team Race.

The Medley Team race in which two Japanese teams were pitted against the V.R.C. proved very interesting. The two first men for the Japanese teams swam the back strokes. Their second men swam "free style," their third the breast stroke and the fourth the free style again.

The V.R.C. won this event, mainly because the breast stroke swimmer over two lengths found himself unequal to the free style swimmer who was pitted against him.

Padgett swam first for the V.R.C. and actually finished a matter of inches behind one of the Japanese back strokes swimmer. Lawrence swam second for the V.R.C. and allowed both free style men to pass him. It was left to E. B. da Roza, who swam third for the Club to establish a long lead over both the breast "strokers" and giving a start of a quarter of length to L. Roza Pereira, the V.R.C. managed to win by three yards from the Japanese "B" team composed of Messrs. Toyoda, Takamura, Hameiro and Sugimoto. The other team composed of Messrs. Kawatsu, Umeda, Osaki and Katoka.

An exhibition water polo game brought the programme to a close.

SIMPLE

The famous banker was seated next to a lady from a small town in the West. He attempted to make conversation. "I have been so busy with my own affairs," said he, "that I have never found the time to study many subjects which appeal to me. For instance, I I can't even tell you what makes that electric lamp glow."

"How peculiar!" said his companion, with a patronizing air, "You simply press the button, and there it is!"

DOMINION LINE SOLD

Associated for more than sixty years with the St. Lawrence River and the Port of Montreal, the familiar house flag of the Dominion Line will soon disappear from the seven seas, as the good name of this company has been acquired by Donaldson Bros., Limited, of Glasgow, together with the steamer Nortonian, states the "Montreal Gazette." The Nortonian will be operated by the Donaldson Line during the coming summer between Montreal and the Bristol Channel ports in conjunction with their own steamers and freighters of the Bristol City Line. Although no confirmation of this report could be obtained from officials in Montreal of the White Star Line or the Robert Reford Company, Limited, agents respectively for the Dominion Line and Donaldson Line, it was admitted that negotiations to this end had been taking place between Frederick Leyland and Company, Limited, Liverpool, operators of the Dominion Line ships, and Donaldson Bros., Limited. Furthermore, during the past winter, the Nortonian was chartered by the Donald Line for two voyages.

MR. FRED PERRY AS A STOCKBROKER

London, May 8.

Mr. Fred Perry, the British Davis Cup play, interviewed at Bournemouth yesterday, said:

"I have joined a firm of stockbrokers in London. I have now been on their staff for about a week."

Mr. Perry added that his new position would not in any way restrict his activities as a lawn-tennis player.

Scottish Air-Mail Letter

The Black Watch: Women Inspectors Of Schools; Honour For Woman Doctor: Thackeray's Letters: Mr. Bernard Darwin: Social Value Of The Territorials: Cambridge Men's Explorations

(Special Air Mail Service)

Edinburgh, May 8.

When the 2nd Battalion of The Black Watch arrive in London on May 13 the dark tartan of the regiment will be seen again in the capital after a lapse of many decades. The old 73rd Highlanders are to give at the Royal Tournament a display outlining the incidents which have made the name of The Black Watch famous.

The King, the Colonel-in-Chief, will take the salute on May 17 when the 73rd, the original second battalion of the 42nd Royal Highlanders, marches past him at Olympia at the end of the display.

The historical representation will be in five phases as follows:—

The Opening March.
The Regiment in 1745.
Sounding the Retreat.
The Black Watch through the Ages.
The Regiment of to-day.

After the Jacobite rebellion men of all classes came forward to keep order and watch the Highlands, and as they wore dark tartan the famous name of The Black Watch originated. This fine corps, with clansmen, lairds, and squires in the ranks, became a Regular regiment, and this early beginning will be shown in the arena. Then the march of events will go on showing the men returned from the Low Countries, the regiment at Waterloo, Tel-el-Kebir, and so on to France, with its colourful grouping of all the old uniforms contrasted with the regiment of to-day.

The music will be a special feature and will include "Highland Laddie," which was laid down in 1882 as the march of every Highland regiment. Though some have abandoned it, the Black Watch still use it. "The Black Highland Laddie," a tune of 1742, and "A Lay of the 42nd, first played about 1818, will also be revived. The 2nd Battalion's old march, "My Love is Like a Red, Red Rose," "Blue Bonnets Over the Border," "The Road to the Isles," "Hills o' Perth," "Scotland the Brave," and other fine old Scottish airs in marches, reels, and strathspeys will be played.

The casting of parts is: Sir Robert Munro of Foulis (Lieutenant M. V. A. Wolfe-Murray), the Duke of Cumberland (2nd Lieutenant B. E. Fergusson), and Commander of the 1934 Guard (Second Lieutenant D. MacN. C. Rose). Major A. K. McLeod will be in command, assisted by Captains W. F. Barclay and O. G. H. Russell, Lieutenant K. I. D. Stewart and other officers. The commanding officer of the battalion is Lieutenant-Colonel F. G. Chalmer, D.S.O., M. C.

OPEN TO WOMEN

Mrs. Shaw asked the Secretary of State for Scotland in the House of Commons yesterday whether he had considered the recommendations of the Royal Commission on the Civil Service with regard to the employment of women in inspectorates, and whether he proposed to give effect to them when appointing Inspectors of Schools in Scotland.

Mr. Skelton, Under-Secretary of State—The answer to both parts of the question is in the affirmative. The Royal Commission's recommendations are applicable to the Scottish inspectorate.

In future, therefore, women will be eligible, equally with men for appointment as Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors of Schools in Scotland, and for promotion to the higher posts in the inspectorate.

SCOTTISH WOMAN DOCTOR HONOURED

A Scottish physician is the first woman to be elected a Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians in 400 years.

She is Dr. Helen Marion Macpherson Mackay, physician to the Queen's Hospital for Children, London, and a member of the staff of the Medical Research Council.

Dr. Mackay, who is also a Member of the Royal College of Surgeons and a Fellow of the Royal Society of Medicine, and who was born in Inverness in 1891, has had a distinguished medical career.

She was assistant physician at the Infants' Hospital at Westminster and assistant pathologist and house physician at the Royal Free Hospital. Later Dr. Mackay became senior medical officer of Bolingbroke Hospital.

AUTHORITY ON DIETETICS

Some time ago, after five years' research work in East London, Dr. Mackay and her colleagues at the Queen's Hospital discovered a simple and cheap remedy for infant anaemia. They found that the addition of iron together with ammonium citrate to a normal milk diet for infants prevented and cured anaemia, raised the resistance to infection, and improved the rate of growth.

Dr. Mackay is an authority on rickets and dietetics for children.

THACKERAY'S SCOTTISH TOUR

Thackeray's lecture tour in Scotland and Northern Ireland in 1856 prior to his bid for the Parliamentary representation of Oxford city is recalled by a large collection of the author's letters to be sold this month at Sotheby's. Writting from Scotland just after the dissolution of Parliament he said:—"This dissolution will play havoc with my money schemes, and nobody will care for lectures when there will be so much spouting at the General Election." Thackeray stood for Oxford as a Liberal, but was beaten by Cardwell, afterwards War Minister, by 67 votes. The campaign was marked by many pleasantries between the rivals. I am reminded that his sojourn in the North brought him £977 10s, to which Edinburgh contributed £300, Glasgow £105, and Paisley £25.

R. AND A. CAPTAIN-ELECT

To the distinguished roll of captains of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews is to be added the name of Mr. Bernard Darwin. Their choice will be universally applauded. It is a recognition of services to the game on its literary side which was bound to come sooner or later, and every individual who has written about golf in however humble a capacity will rejoice that Mr. Darwin is to be honoured at the headquarters of the game. For in his books and his contributions to golf journalism he has won for himself a distinctive place as a stylist, and as a critic and commentator of rare discrimination. The Darwinian pen (always so charmingly employed in sketching the frailties of golfing humanity) has on the whole been stronger than the Darwinian club, but the captain-elect has kept in the ranks of notable amateurs for over 30 years, and all who delight in his elevation to high office will hope that his drive from the tee in September will be worthy of the man and the occasion.

TERRITORIAL RECRUITING

The tenour of the speeches at yesterday's meeting of the Glasgow Territorial Army and Air Force Association is, in its very reasonableness, a sufficient answer to those who see militaristic intent behind the recruiting campaign at present in progress in the city. Recent international events do nothing but add new force to the argument that the best assurance of peace lies in a strong citizen army. From a domestic point of view another of the points brought out at yesterday's meeting is worth emphasising. Apart from military training, its facilities for education, sport, and companionship give the Territorial Army a social value not to be overlooked at the present time.

EMULATING DRAKE AND HAWKING

An expedition of Cambridge men is to set out from Aberdeen this month on a voyage of exploration that brings to mind the days of Drake, Hawkins, Frobisher and the other great Elizabethan navigators—the search for and conquest of the North-West Passage.

A Norwegian sailing vessel, the Heimen, of Tromsoe, has been chartered for the purpose, and will sail from Oslo to Aberdeen on May 15, where the members of the expedition are waiting for it.

The route the explorers intend to take is from Aberdeen to the west coast of Greenland, and, if possible through Melville Sound to Nome, Alaska.

If the North-West Passage is thus achieved, the expedition will continue down the Pacific coast to San Francisco and return home via the Panama Canal.

Should it prove impossible to force a way through Melville Sound, the expedition will concentrate on mapping and other scientific work from the west coast of Greenland onward.

conciled antagonistic forces and created an ideal which makes capital, labour, individualism, religion and nationalism co-operate without friction for the benefit of the people and of the nation. It is still premature to define these evolutionary changes, but it is beyond any doubt that their scope is amplifying itself beyond the reach it had in the pre-Fascist era.

Where there is a will there is a way. It is interest to note that at the very beginning of this social revolution those who came from the war, particularly those who had behaved heroically, had been chosen by the will of the people to lead them in the new civil campaigns. It was understood that great sacrifices had to be endured in the forthcoming social struggle and only those who had defended the country from the foreign enemy through self abnegation, constancy and risk of their lives could be trusted. Those were the days of the birth of Fascism when mostly exservicemen took the lead and organised groups of civilians in a military fashion to cope with the growing anarchy and to defend order. Thousands of young men of different social conditions were always ready, day and night, for a call from headquarters to rush here or there and resume the work of some factory, the labourers of which had gone on strike for instance, or to deliver foodstuffs to houses when the markets used to be closed in sympathy with strikers somewhere, may be in Germany or Sweden. The persistance and seriousness with which these young men attended to their new mission had a wonderful effect upon the country. A great many labourers became conscious of the futility of strikes and started to think that it was possible that the youths of Italy had found the key to the mysterious door of adjustment. There was no specific programme as yet but the first principles of Fascism had already been laid down. Discipline and order above all, and with it hierarchical obedience. When the spark of this realisation finally developed into a potential and unextinguishable wame then all the best elemefits of Italy, forged in one mass with one will, appealed to the common sense of the nation to step definitely on the road of Fascist reconstruction and discard the unpractical ways of the past.

March On Rome.

When the Italian Fascists marched on Rome led by Benito Mussolini, the spokesman of their desires, it was not to stage a battle with the decrepit institution of our government, it was the unveiled desire of the new Italy that had fought in the War to bring the first soldier of the nation into the ranks of Fascism—for was not the King a soldier?

Twenty Centuries Ago.

To the students of all Nations of Asia assembled last year in Rome Musolini made this idea clear. "Twenty centuries ago" he said "on the shores of the Mediterranean Sea, Rome accomplished an union between the West and the East that considerably influenced the history of the world. And although then the West was colonized from Rome, relations with Syria, Egypt and Persia were based instead on a reciprocal creative understanding.

This union was the fundamental motive of all our history. European civilization originated from it, and unless it becomes again universal it will perish."

Owing to the Fascist re-awakening, which is essentially spiritual in character, to-day Rome and the Mediterranean are on the point of resuming their unifying function.

The same as on other occasions, when a fatal crisis was threatened and the civilization of the world was saved through the colaboration of Rome with the East, to-day, in the present crisis of the entire system of institutions and ideas that have lost their life and exist as if they were embalmed, we, Italians and Fascists at the same time, hope to resume the common, millenary tradition of our constructive collaboration."

I hope, ladies and gentlemen, that I have succeeded in conveying to you the state of mind in which we Italians are living to-day, and I thank you for your consideration in coming here to listen to me.

COMPANY MEETING

China Uuderwriters, Limited

The tenth annual general meeting of China Underwriters Limited took place at their registered offices, Hong Kong Bank Building yesterday morning, when Mr. A. L. Shields, Chairman of the Board of Director presided and was supported by Messrs. Li Tse-fong, P. V. Botelho, C.A. da Roza, Mok Ching-kong and H. R. Sturt, directors.

The following shareholders were also present: Messrs. Wo Ching-ho, Sze Tsun-yue, I. W. Shewan, H. J. M. de Figueiredo, J. F. Wright Jr., Chan Lai-pan, J. Coulthart, H. Dreyer and Wong So.

The Chairman, Mr. A. L. Shields, in his speech said:

Before commenting on these Accounts I am sure you will wish me to express your regret at the death of Mr. Robert Gordon Shewan who was Chairman first of the Consulting Committee, and afterwards of the Board of Directors, from the commencement of the Company until his retirement through ill health last year.

You will no doubt also share the Directors' regret at the loss of Mr. Allan Cameron's valuable services on the Board owing to his retirement from the Colony. Mr. Cameron was an original member of the Consulting Committee and has served in that capacity or as a Director since the inception of the Company.

In the Accounts, Rupees and Straits dollars have been converted to Sterling throughout at the parities. Silver currencies have been converted to Hong Kong dollars and other currencies to sterling at the current monthly rates for revenue purposes and at the market rates on 31st December, 1933 for balance sheet purposes.

For the purpose of showing the accounts in Hong Kong dollars the sterling figures arrived at as above have been converted at the rate of Hong Kong $1=1/5\frac{1}{2}$d.

The difference between the exchange used last year, 1/3d., and that used on the present occasion $1/5\frac{1}{2}$d., has the effect of decreasing all the revenue items on both sides of the account in respect of the sterling portion of each item.

The Depression

The exchange adjustments as applied to the funds brought forward at the beginning of the year are shown in the published accounts in the various departments and speak for themselves.

The depression referred to in the Chairman's remarks last year has in the main continued during the period under review, although there is some evidence of improved conditions in the Straits and Ceylon. On the other hand conditions in Hong Kong have been extremely unfavourable.

Life Premiums at $573,819 show a decrease as compared with last year's figure. This decrease is almost entirely due to the rate at which currency figures are converted. The actual income is only slightly less than last year.

Claims at $93,525 are less than half those shown in last year's account. In arriving at this figure we have deducted the Reserve set up for a claim referred to in last year's Account, but which has since proved not to be payable.

There is a gratifying reduction in the Surrender Values paid which had previously attained a very high figure.

Expenses in the Life Assurance Department show a small decrease but this decrease is mainly due to the rate at which the Gold currency expenses have been converted.

It will be seen that the Life Assurance fund shows a small increase at $189,082. A reduction in this fund would have been shown owing to the conversion of the Gold portion of the fund at the new rate but this has been made good by a transfer from the exchange fluctuation account.

Fire Insurance Premiums show a decrease from last year's figure and the reserve shows a reduction from $83,629 to $74,774.

The ratio of reserve to premium income, however, shows a small increase, and the reserve should be ample to take up claims under unexpired risks.

Marine Insurance premiums show a decrease from last year's figure, and the reserve at $186,898 is slightly less than last year's figure of $193,560. This reduction in reserve is partly due to the rate at which the gold portion of the reserve has been converted and partly to the transfer of the equivalent of £1,000 from this account to the credit of Profit and Loss. After this transfer the ratio of Reserve to premium income stands at 182 per cent. as against 142 per cent. last year.

The business on the books is of satisfactory class and the account which was discontinued a few years ago and in respect of which heavy reserves were set up has run off on a more satisfactory basis than was expected.

Accident premiums show a reduction from last year's figure partly attributable to exchange and partly to the falling off in business due to trade conditions.

The Claim rate has been very satisfactory and after allowing for an exchange loss of $5428 the reserve is increased from $73,913 to $79,575.

The debit balance to profit and Loss which stood at $63,121 last year has been reduced to $12,700.

There has been no considerable change in the Balance Sheet and the values of the securities in the Balance Sheet stand at a lower figure than their market prices at the date of the account.

In conclusion I should like to place on record our appreciation of the co-operation of the branch managers, secretaries and staff, and I have now the pleasure to propose the adoption of the Report and Accounts for the year ending 31st December 1933.

Mr. H.J.M. de Figueiredo seconded the motion which was unanimously passed.

Messrs. Mok Ching-kong and C. A. da Roza were re-elected Directors on the proposal of Chan Lai-pan and seconded by Mr. J. Coulthart.

Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews, Chartered Accountants and Messrs. Percy Smith Seth and Fleming, Incorporated Accountants, were re-elected as Auditors for the current year at a remuneration of $1,250 each, proposed by Mr. M. Dreyer and seconded by Mr. Wong Chung-Wo.

AN AUSTRALIAN CASUALTY

Oldfield Injured At The Nets

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, May 8.

The Australian cricketers suffered their first casualty yesterday.

During batting practice at an indoor school in Westminster, W. A. Oldfield, the wicket-keeper, was struck on the head by a delivery from his comrade, C. V. Grimmett.

Oldfield is one of the unluckiest of players. In the third Test match at Adelaide fifteen months ago he received a heavy blow on the head from Larwood which kept him out of the next Test. Happily yesterday's accident is not so serious.

It occurred towards the close of the afternoon, when nearly everybody had left. Most of the other Australians had changed, and were gathering for tea as the guests of their old fellow-player, Alan Fairfax proprietor of the cricket school.

Camera Man's Lamp Smashed

Oldfield had been hitting the ball so vigorously that he smashed a camera-man's lamp. "Pitch 'em up, Charlie," he called; and Grimmett pitched them up, with the consequence that the ball slid off Oldfield's bat and cut open his left eye.

Oldfield was assisted to the dressing-room. When he emerged later his temple was plastered, and on his return to the hotel he was examined by a doctor, on whose advice he rested instead of accompanying the other players to the evening performance at the Coliseum.

Rain had prevented practice at Lord's for the second day in succession. All sixteen players went into the nets, pitched in a basement 40ft underground, and to the general amusement Bradman and Woodfull were bowled.

A. P. F. Chapman also batted. Among the leading players who attended were R. W. V. Robins, I. A. R. Peebles, and C. S. Dempster, the New Zealand batsman, who will play this season for Blackpool in the Ribblesdale League.

NEW RELIGIOUS MOVEMENT

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

Berlin, May 22.

Various radical groups, formerly belonging to the German Evangelical Church, have been reorganised and united under the title of "German Faith Movement," at a convention at Schwarzfelden on Tuesday.

Professor Wilhelm Hauer of Huebingen was elected to the post of supreme leader. Adherents of the new movement are required to take an oath that they are free from either Jewish or coloured ancestry, and belong to no secret societies, such as free masons or Jesuits. Any applicant who remains a member of any other church may not be more than an associate member of the new organisation and will be unauthorised to bear a full member's title. "One of German Faithful."

A golden "sun-wheel" on blue field was chosen at the same convention as the symbol of the new religious movement.—Transocean, Kuo Min.

WOMEN POLICE IN CANTON

Sixty To Be Enrolled

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, May 23.

Canton streets will be adorned with women police in accordance with instructions from the Executive Yuan of the National Government, as female "cops" have made their appearance in other cities in North China.

Sixty girls and young women will be enrolled in the police training school, and they will be ready for patrol duty before the year is out. Though not intended to handle rough gangsters and gunmen, women police are considered useful in combating social evils and female criminals.

Prices of Tungsten

Mining companies exploiting tungsten in Southern Kiangsi have petitioned to General Yu Han Mou, commanding officer of Cantonese troops there, to raise the prices of this ore in order to maintain a better living among the workers.

This mineral is sold exclusively as a government monopoly by the National Products Sales Office. When the mining companies turn in their ore to the Office, they are given an advance of 30 per cent. of the value of the goods and the balance upon sale by the tungsten. Since there is a good margin between buying and selling prices, the companies are asking for a better price for their goods or a reduction of the margin.

Tungsten is being exported in large quantities from here to Europe and America. The good demand is due to its use in manufacturing armaments.

Planes Bomb Red Zones

Scouting and bombing planes of the Canton air force flew to Hui Chang and Jui Chin in South Kiangsi on May 20 to observe the position of the enemy garrison. The aviators saw a big concentration of Red forces, some of whom are busy building fortifications in the anticipation of an offensive of Cantonese troops.

The planes then dropped 12 bombs on the garrison and killed over 100 Red soldiers and destroyed some of the forts before they were completed. The army fliers also saw heavy military traffic on the dirt roads between Hui Chang and Jui Chin.

PRACTICE AND PRECEPT

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, May 8.

Russell Pasha's report on the illicit drug traffic, which has been prohibited in Cairo, points to Manchuria as a new danger point in the world's drug situation.

When the Japanese created the "independent" state of Manchukuo, they issued a decree proclaiming that the cultivation, sale, and consumption of opium would be rigorously suppressed.

Opium, they said, was "incompatible with the welfare of the people." So they made it a state monopoly.

Opium bureaux have been set up. They buy the produce of the poppy fields at a low fixed price from as many of the peasants as can be forced to comply with the regulations.

They sell it to dealers—many of them Japanese and Koreans—at prices which are neither fixed nor low.

The eating and smoking opium are on the increase in Manchuria, and a substantial revenue accrues to the Japanese controlled government.

There is also a thriving export trade.

ARMS FOR CHINA

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, May 8.

Mr. Leonard (Soc., St. Rollox) will ask the Financial Secretary to the War Office on Monday if he is aware that in 1931 a British firm interested in the manufacture of munitions endeavoured to enlist the help of the commanding officer, Royal Artillery, Northern Command, York, in recommending an officer suitable to foster the sale of arms to the Chinese Government, and willing to accept employment in that country; that the commanding officer referred to communicated with the War Office, and from the Office received the name of an officer deemed suitable.

He will also ask whether this is an accepted part of the duties of that Department and if the practice continues.

CHINESE SILK EXPORTS

An Improved Turnover

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, May 23.

Notwithstanding keen Japanese competition and the higher tariff on Chinese silk imposed by the Government of India, the export of silk has improved during the past several weeks and is consigned mostly to Europe and America.

The quality of Chinese silk is in better conditions following the co-operation of producers and the government authorities in turning out this product of a higher grade. Silk exporters believe that if further improvement is made, the demands from Europe and America will be better in view of the economy recovery in those countries.

The National Products Sales Office at Ka Nam Tong Building, West Bund, announces that it has silk goods of various kinds for sale which are produced by a government silk factory. An organ of the Provincial Department of Reconstruction, the Sales Office sells among other things government silk products which are finished with latest scientific methods.

A site for the government silk factory has been selected at Honam suburb near the Wireless School. A survey of the lot has been made, and tenders are called for the construction of this factory. All this construction work and industrial plans are undertaken by the Provincial Department of Reconstruction.

Signor Benito Mari, the sericulture expert of the League of Nations, who visited Canton three months ago, declared that because of climatic conditions silk produced in Kwangtung, especially in northern countries, is better than that of other provinces.

Improvement of this commodity is in the charge of the Silk Improvement Bureau, another organ of the Reconstruction Department.

GERMANY'S DISARMAMENT EMISSARY

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Berlin, May 22.

Germany's special disarmament emissary, von Ribbentrop, reported on his return from Rome that the conversations with Mussolini, Palazzo and Venezia, ended with complete agreement between Mussolini, and Hitler for the immediate achievement of some kind of disarmament convention even if nothing more was attained than the limitation of the strength of armaments.

Von Ribbentrip expressed complete approval of the Reich with the spirit of the Italian memorandum of January, and again summarised Germany's demands as the minimum needed for the nation's defence, emphasising that on this score the Reichs Chancellor was adamant.

The absolute identity of the standpoint of both countries confirmed that, to use the words of Sir John Simon, "any disarmament treaty, even a limitation treaty, would be better than none."—Transocean Kuo Min.

MILITARY MISSION

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

Tirana, May 22.

Owing to the tension between Albania and Italy which has been prevailing for some time past, the Italian Military Mission to Albania is to be dissolved. The leader of this body, General Tariani, virtual war minister in Albania, has already left for Rome. The whole of the General Staff, under Colonel Gabrielli, will follow shortly.—Transocean Kuo Min.

POPULATION DECREASING

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

Berlin, May 22.

Official statistics issued by the City of Berlin, show that the population of the German capital is definitely sinking. The maximum was reached in the year 1930 which had 4,237,800, in February 1933 the number was 4,265, and in February, 1934 it was 4,212,133.—Transocean Kuo Min.

SILVER'S UNCERTAIN FUTURE

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, May 8.

Silver has been pursuing an erratic course since President Roosevelt commenced to publish the names of silver speculators.

Following the initial fall in prices as a result of his announcement, fluctuations have been extensive.

While President Roosevelt has at last made it plain that for the moment he intends to do nothing further for silver, it is evident that speculative operators may endeavour to make some capital out of the possibility of something being done in the next session of Congress.

No Definite Statement

So far the President has avoided any direct declaration that he has finally abandoned all idea of eventual action.

Until the surprise rebuff administered by his recent exposure of speculators' names the market had been allowed to build up a big speculative position over a long period. It had, in fact, been encouraged by the United States' support of silver at the World Conference, and was increasingly disposed to think that the support of silver might be part of the Administration's monetary programme.

Propaganda and pressure by the silver interests accentuated this bullishness.

The anomaly of such a position being allowed to develop over a long period, and of a rebuff being administered only after several months of speculation, does not appear to be altogether removed even now, and much will depend on the future attitude of the American authorities.

If, in deference to the silver interests, there is still left a suggestion that "something some time" may yet be done for silver there will always be a risk of a fresh outbreak of speculative fluctuations.

Uncertainty

Up to now the authorities have apparently failed to see their way to make an unequivocal pronouncement clearly setting forth their intentions. This official reserve may have been due partly to political expediency and an unwillingness to antagonise the powerful silver group, or to the experimental nature of the Administration's plans.

Meanwhile, the market is faced with the problem of possible liquidation of American speculative stocks which have been allowed to accumulate under the recent temporising policy.

KRUPP WORKS DENIAL

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

Essen, May 22.

Rumours current abroad to the effect that the employment of 7,000 workers in the "Krupp" Works is connected with the arming of additional 200,000 "Reichswehr"-men (German army) were denied by the management of the works in an interview with British press reporters. The firm has not received orders which in any case could not have been complied with as after the Treaty of Versailles all machines for the manufacturing of arms had to be destroyed.

It would take years and years to replace these machines, the directors state. The only reason for employing these workmen is the increasing demand developed through steps taken by the government of the "Reich".—Transocean Kuo Min.

THE BOGUS REGIMENT

Canton, May 23.

Being unable to withstand the attack launched by the Kwangtung and Kwangsi troops, most of the Communist-bandits in Kiangsi and Fukien have changed their heart and are ready to dissociate themselves with the so-called Red Army.

According to a military officer who has just returned to the city from west Fukien, about twenty high officers of the bogus 22nd Regiment with over 100 men surrendered to the Kwangtung 1st Independent Division recently. In the manifesto they issued to other bandits, they pointed out the mistakes of the Communists and advised them to live a new life by deserting the bogus army.—Central Press.

MESSRS. ROZA BROS. REPORT

Silver prices remained at the last quoted rate of 19 9/16 for Ready and 19¾ for Forward. There was some American support in the London market yesterday and China was reported to have operated both as buyers and sellers. India on the other hand sold. Closing tone was quiet but steady. New York quoted a firm market at 45¼.

The cross-rate New York/London opened at 5.11 and closed at 5.10⅜ with an uncertain tone.

Market

Uncertain at the opening, very wide rates being quoted, but steady at the level finally fixed.

Sterling

Sellers at the opening quoted 1/5¼ for July, buyers bidding 1/5 9/32 for cash. Business was fixed at 1/5¼ for cash, 1/5 9/32 June and 1/5 11/32 August, but to a small extent. The market closed with likely sellers at 1/5¼ for May, 1/5¼ June and 1/5 9/32 for July, buyers at 1/32 higher.

U.S. Dollars

Opening with sellers at 36 13/16 for July, steadying later to 36¾ sellers, 36¾ buyers at which rates the market closed.

Yen

120¼.

Shanghai Dollars

Business was done at 110 15/16.

Shanghai Market

Forecasted at 1/3 7/16 and 32 13/16 in sympathy with a rise in the price of Gold Bars but the actual market opened at 1/3¼ and 1/3 9/16 sellers and buyers of Sterling and Dollars at 33 3/16 sellers, 33¼ buyers at which rates the market was reported as dull but steady throughout the morning.

INDO-CHINA STEAM NAVIGATION

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, May 8.

The report of the Indo-China Steam Navigation Company for the year 1933 states that adverse trade conditions continued to affect carryings, but that some assistance was obtained in converting dollar balances into sterling from the higher value of silver. After charging £87,754 depreciation, a net loss is shown of £72,236, compared with £10,695 for 1932 (after charging £91,891 depreciation). The sum of £1,400 is brought in, and it is proposed to transfer £75,000 from general reserve (reducing that account to £60,000), leaving £1,364 to go forward. Steamships, &c., stand in the balance-sheet at £1,303,274 (against £1,384,232), and floating assets total £155,198 (against £142,223). Reserve accounts are reduced from a total of £791,624 to £713,504, creditors being increased from £80,227 to £90,397. The Preferred dividend is in arrear from 1926.

IMPERIAL AND INTERNATIONAL COMMUNICATIONS, LIMITED

The Eastern Extension Australasia & China Telegraph Co., Ltd., advise that the following has been received from their Head Office, London:

Message Receipts

An index number will be issued in time for publication on the 20th of each month, and as the course of these traffic receipts has always afforded a valuable indication of world trading and commercial activity, it is hoped that, in addition to providing an indication of the Company's traffic for its stockholders, it will be found of value to observers of world economic conditions.

Index Numbers

These index numbers represent the estimated monthly receipts from traffic as related to comparable traffic in the year 1929. It should be noted that since 1929 the operation in various overseas areas has been taken over at different dates by the local associated companies, and the total figures for 1929 taken for purpose of comparison in establishing the index 100, have therefore been adjusted when necessary by the omission of the receipts accruing in the areas affected. The index numbers are, in consequence, all shown upon a comparable basis.

Monthly figures reduced to working day average.

Working day average of comparable receipts, year 1929=100.

LANE, CRAWFORD, LTD.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Messrs. Lane, Crawford, Ltd., the accounts for the year ended February 28, 1934 had the attention of Directors.

The balance at credit of Profit and Loss Account, subject to audit, after adding the sum of $11,288.85 brought forward from last account, is $90,760.61, and the Directors recommend that, after allowing for depreciation amounting to $51,485.47, the balance be appropriated as follows:—

To place to Reserve for Bad and Doubtful Debts, thereby making a total reserve of $10,000 ..... $ 7,796.64
To place to Reserve for Staff Passages and Contingencies 20,000.00
To carry forward to next account 11,478.50

BERLIN SHARE MARKET

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Berlin, May 22.

The resumption of negotiations in the transfer conference has revived the hope that the prevailing uncertainty would soon end, but the volume of business done in the sharemarket remained small, price changes tending downwards. Fixed interest securities was erratic, the demand being small.

Call Money 4 to 4½, Young Loan ½ weaker to 91½, Reichsbank ½ lower to 149½, Dyetrusts ½ down to 133, Salzdetfurth Potash dropped 7/8 to 144, German Steel Trusts declined ½ to 40½, German Mineral Oils ¼ lower to 115, Siemenshalske dropped 1 to 133, and Bemberg Rayon slumped 2¼ to 63¾.—Transocean Kuo Min.

The A. O. F. Corp. has received the following report form their New York correspondents, E. A. Pierce & Co. Shortly after the announcement of the President's silver message, the market turned somewhat reactionary, remaining unsettled for the balance of the session. Silver stocks were quite reactionary.

Wheat: In spite of unusually large crop damage reports, especially in Spring wheat and an abundance of outside interest, the market is very vulnerable to any selling movement and is still a weather-market.

Cotton: Early advances in anticipation of the President's silver message were not maintained subsequent to the issuance of the message, but prices rallied slightly towards the close.

Silver: An unknown buyer bought a 160 lots. There was relatively heavy Wall Street and bank selling and scattered speculative purchases.

Business Done: 930,000 shares.
